AUTO WRECKS TRAIN: TWO KILLED, SIX HURT

Racing Promoters Start Petition for Orange County Track

PLANS GIVEN SUPPORT BY STANLEY

Predicts 50,000 Signers
Can Be Gained for New Program Here

"I could get the signatures of 50,000 people who wanted an Orange county fair, and racing with it—if I wanted to."

S. W. Stanley, director of the Orange County Fair association, rancher, and treasurer of the County Farm bureau, jumped to the defense of plans for a county fair and race track near Hansen today with that remark. The plans had been subjected to attack by the ministerial association and other groups.

Petitions directed to the California horse racing board asking that a permit for the Hansen racing be issued appeared on Santa Ana streets this morning. Circulators told prospective signers "All the money has been put up and we're ready to go. We can't fail!"

Couldn't Hurt Business
"All this opposition!" Stanley said. "There can't be any comparison between a county fair racing program and Santa Anita. In the first place there only would be 14 days of racing, not enough to hurt business. If we were planning to stage races on a big scale I wouldn't want to have anything to do with it."

In the second place, he said, it would be impossible to stage a county fair without racing—"Fairs without racing are passe."

Stimulate Agriculture
Stanley placed the benefits of a county fair far above the detriment of a racing program. It would stimulate agriculture, he said, and encourage not only the racing end of livestock breeding, but also all other farm lines. It would serve as a focal point for activities of 4-H club members and youthful farmers.

Numbered among other advantages of the county fair plan by Stanley:

It would bring state funds to Orange county, which could be used for premiums and further development of the fair.

Athletic Stadium
It would provide an arena for the staging of rodeos and other shows.

The fair grounds could be used as an athletic stadium, now lacking in the county.

Profits accruing from the race program could be used to liquidate debts left over from the Old Orange county fair.

And finally, said Stanley, racing is legal in California. Betting races under certain conditions are legal.

"If that condition ceased to exist," he said, "I would no longer be interested in the plan as advanced."

Canine Causes Master's Death

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Brownie, a large and demonstrative dog, was held responsible today for the death of his elderly master, John Miller, 68.

Miller died in a hospital last night of a fractured skull incurred when Brownie affectionately leaped on him and sent him tumbling down a six-foot embankment. Miller's head struck a rock.

Ski-Panted Girls Sent Home

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP)—Principal Alton E. Ramey of Provincetown High school said today he sent home two girls wearing ski suits yesterday because it was unhealthy and "unladylike" to wear ski pants in school.

Ramey further said the superintendent of schools, the principal and the faculty had adopted a rule against such attire in school three weeks ago.

His 'Latest' Picture

This photograph of Abraham Lincoln only recently was added to the photographic collection of the Smithsonian Institution. It was taken after the 1860 election and the photographic plates, broken in shipment, were held in the dead letter office after the government settled the damage claim. (Associated Press photo.)

What Would 'Honest Abe' Do About Today's Problems?

Deathless Abraham Lincoln is 128 years old today.

The nation honors him. It knows how he met the problems of yesterday.

But what would the living Abraham Lincoln say of today? What would the rail-splitter, the simple storekeeper, the eloquent, kindly man say of a day like today?

Of a day of airplane crashes, Communism, million-dollar race tracks, Aimee Semple McPherson, streamlined trains, a 15-man supreme court, television and talkies, carbon monoxide suicides, doll-brides, depressions, NRA and murdered Huey Long?

Would his answer be the same as America's?

GRAPPLE FOR HONOR GIVEN 7 VICTIMS 'SUTHERLAND'

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Grapple hooks and drag nets groped through muddy waters of San Francisco bay today for bodies of seven missing air crash victims while aerial experts clambered over the shattered hulk of a new transport plane to solve the mystery of its crash.

Examination of the four recovered bodies indicate the persons aboard were still alive when the United air liner crashed its nose into the muddy bottom of the bay Tuesday night.

Coroner William Crosby of San Mateo county, off the shores of which the big plane crashed, set an inquest for 2 p. m. next Tuesday.

Students today began circulating petitions in protest.

"They said their school paper, 'The Anchorage' would come out with an editorial 'in defense of ski pants.'" And Mrs. Harriet Adams, mother of Marjorie Stahl, one of the girls sent home, entered the controversy, saying mothers should be the judges of what their daughters wear, and adding her daughter had informed her that the school often isn't warm.

President-elect for next year is Dr. G. E. McDonald, health officer of Long Beach.

Following the dinner program, the program for the next year was outlined. The program for the year will feature a battle against social diseases, in line with the program for the entire nation.

Dollar Day Lures Crowds

WATER WASTE DENIED BY FARMERS

Agricultural Leader
Hurls Accusation
At Cities

Farm groups today hit back at the charge they are wasting 35,000 acre feet of water per year. And they tossed a bomb into the laps of the cities when they declared these areas are wasting more water per capita than the farmers.

The charge against the farm groups and the counter-accusation against the municipalities, if both are true, means that Orange county annually wastes enough water to solve its water problem!

Dips Into Reserves
The overdraft each year on the available water supply has been estimated at 40,000 to 50,000 acre feet. In other words, the county is using this much more water than it receives—dipping into its reserve to this extent each year.

The alleged 35,000 acre foot waste plus the alleged city waste would total more than 50,000 acre feet.

"But who," ask the farmers, "can prove that we waste that much water?"

Only a Guess
The 35,000 acre foot figure was thrown into the discussion on Tuesday by Supervisor N. E. West of Laguna Beach. He said he had been reliably informed that approximately six acre inches are wasted each year in a 70,000 acre agricultural area in the county.

That makes 35,000 acre feet. But, said West, that's only a guess. Retaliating Roland D. Flaherty, farm bureau secretary, "There is some waste, all right, but it's not as much in proportion to use as the waste right in the cities. Farmers have been studying water use for the past 15 years, and during that time agricultural use per acre has been cut down 25 per cent in the past 15 years.

Cities Could Reduce
"In cities no thought has been given to cutting down waste and they perhaps are using more water per capita than the farmers. Studies have shown the cities could reduce their water use without affecting comfort or efficiency.

"We feel there should be some effective means of curbing waste in both the cities and farm areas."

Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg, who has made careful studies on efficient use of water, also admitted there is some waste by ranchers.

Detrimental To Crops
"I wouldn't be surprised," he said, "if the water we could get along without is equal, in some cases and some crops, to about the equivalent of one irrigation. We have been pointing out for a number of years that some farmers on some crops have used more water than necessary. In some cases this has been enough of an excess to be detrimental to the crop.

"We find on the average that 18 acre inches per year is an economical amount to use on mature Valencia oranges, but this varies with conditions. Studies by the experiment station at Riverside indicate the economical amount for mature walnuts is 25 acre inches. Those who use in excess of these amounts probably are using more than necessary."

Builder of First Jail Here Was Its First Prisoner

By KENNETH ADAMS

It didn't make any difference in the old days in Santa Ana if you did help build the calaboose. If you didn't behave yourself, you'd get popped into the jailhouse just the same.

Jim Layman had that unique experience about a half century ago. He helped build the first jail the city ever had and he was the jail's first customer.

All the citizens of the lusty young village of Santa Ana, which hadn't yet hit the 100 mark in population, pitched in and helped

Fight for Worship Won by Devout

ORIZABA, Vera Cruz State, Mexico. (AP)—A signed proclamation from the governor of Vera Cruz informed the determined Catholics of Orizaba today that "some churches" would be permitted to reopen. The governor, Miguel Aleman, returned to Orizaba during the night to issue the statement.

At the same time, he warned that no new religious "demonstrations" would be permitted.

The churches came while the peaceful rebellion of Orizaba's Catholics against tight church restrictions spread through the state of Vera Cruz. At Cordoba, among other cities, 14,000 persons paraded the streets, broke into long closed churches, rang the bells exultantly.

The rebellion of the devout against this state's enforcement of the Mexican anti-religious laws which have come to be more or less disregarded elsewhere, began on Tuesday, when Orizaba Catholics threw open the doors of 14 churches which had been dark for a decade.

Pilgrims from surrounding villages joined the fight.

The churches here were closed again unexpectedly yesterday by police who had watched without interfering when the enraged crowds first broke into them. Four hours later, a mass attack reopened the four most prominently located churches a second time without opposition from police and soldiers.

The aroused Catholics' hopes for release from the anti-church laws—more rigidly enforced in this state than almost anywhere else in Mexico—were buoyed by handbills which indicated President Lázaro Cardenas was considering lifting the ban on religious services by turning over the edifices to "laymen's committees."

MILK PRICES SLASHED

Producers, retailers, and consumers of milk in Orange county today were watching with interest the prospect of general milk price revisions, following a 2-cent cut by one retail organization.

Prices announced by the organization effective this morning, were 10 cents a grade A quart in stores—two cents less than the 12-cent price which has prevailed since last Sept. 5.

C. H. Christie, manager of the Orange County Dairyman's association, was in Los Angeles conferring with heads of the retail organization, while dairyman and grocery store proprietors here watched the situation with interest.

All other stores maintained today their prices of 12 cents in stores and 13 cents delivered. Dairies reported the wholesale price remains at 10 cents, as it has since the general one-cent upward revision last September.

Prices of milk sold in gallon jugs in many stores remained at 35 cents retail, with the gallons costing retailers 28 cents. The 12-cent price on quarts in stores has remained the same since September, when the 9-cent wholesale price, 11-cent store, and 12-cent delivered price were all revised upward one cent.

HEIR TO ITALY'S THRONE BORN

NAPLES. (AP)—Crown Princess Marie Jose gave birth today to a son, providing a new heir apparent to the Italian throne.

Booming cannon signaled announcement of the birth of the second child to Prince Umberto and Princess Marie Jose.

The new baby takes royal precedence over his 2-year-old sister, Maria Pia, born at Naples Sept. 24, 1934. His father is the only son of King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Elena, and his mother a former Belgian princess.

Sources close to the royal family said King Victor Emmanuel would decree nationwide amnesty for Italian prisoners in celebration of his grandson's birth.

President Silent
On Court Tempest

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The tempest surrounding the Roosevelt court reform proposals failed to stir the President into making direct comment on opposition attacks or suggestions for a compromise.

Questioned at his semi-weekly press conference, Mr. Roosevelt smilingly replied he preferred not to talk about current developments at the White House, or on Capitol hill.

15,000 WILL JAM STORES IN CITY

Merchants Offer Many Bargains in Annual Shopping Feature

Tomorrow's the day—the day when a silver dollar will buy more in Santa Ana than on any other single day of the year! And a paper dollar will buy just as much.

It's Dollar day, an event for which merchants of Santa Ana have long been planning. They want to put the event over with a bang, and according to present indications they'll do it!

Merchants expect at least 15,000 shoppers to flock to Santa Ana tomorrow to reap the savings and benefits of the city-wide sale. New and special merchandise of every description has been stocked by local merchants, who are forgetting profits for the one day in order to make an outstanding success of the Dollar day event.

In order to avoid the rush and to make sure of securing some of the great bargains which will be offered, crowds of shoppers are expected on the streets as early as 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the long-awaited event opens officially.

Merchants of Santa Ana are cooperating enthusiastically with the merchants' division of the chamber of commerce in staging Dollar day here. All merchants have made special arrangements to handle the crowds of shoppers expected to jam the downtown business section during the day.

Tomorrow's the day. It's Dollar day, high-value day for thrifty shoppers in Santa Ana!

FEAR SECOND SHIP STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—The threat of another paralysis of shipping, growing out of marine union opposition to a federal maritime act, hung today over Pacific coast ports, just recovering from a 98-day strike that cost an estimated $686,000,000.

Officials of three unions comprising unlicensed personnel involved in the recent strike in former President Roosevelt and Secretary Roper that marine commerce "will again be paralyzed from the Pacific coast" unless enforcement of the Copeland act is delayed.

Specifically what action the unions would take was not stated in telegrams to the chief executives and Roper. Some union workers have threatened "sit down" strikes if enforcement is begun before maritime leaders present proposed amendments to the bill.

The act provides that Seamen must carry books showing records of their employment and ability. Sponsors contend it will protect efficient workers and assure them of jobs. The unions declare it furnishes employers information from which they can blacklist men for union activity.

Enforcement of the provision regarding ability grades has been suspended until Feb. 20, and the union officials asked that the date be extended to March 25.

WOMAN DIES; MATE HELD

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Patrick McManus, 75, was held on suspicion of murder today after county autopsy surgeons reported his wife, Josephine, 74, had died of strangulation and possible internal injuries.

What's Your Favorite Dish?

Maybe you like roast turkey with dressing, perhaps it's oyster stew, it might be vegetable hash—we don't know. But we do know that you get your favorite food at Santa Ana's many fine stores. Santa Ana is the shopping center of Orange county. There's a reason. Read the ads in today's Journal and you'll see why.

DRIVER WILL FACE THREE CHARGES

Engine, Seven Coaches
Derailed at Selma;
Traffic Blocked

FRESNO. (AP)—District Attorney Dan Conway announced today that Frank Ritchie, 43, of Porterville, whose stalled automobile is held by officers as responsible for the wreck of the Southern Pacific Owl at Selma last night in which two train men were killed, will be accused of manslaughter, negligent homicide and drunken driving.

The prosecutor said an investigation still is being continued and that it may result in other charges being lodged against the car driver if substantiating proof is found. Conway also said he may call the Fresno grand jury into special session Monday to investigate the accident.

"Aggravated Case"

"This is one of the most aggravated cases of its kind ever to come to my knowledge," he said. No charge is contemplated against Mrs. Ritchie, but one will be filed in case evidence is uncovered connecting her with the presence of the stalled automobile on the track, Conway said.

The dead were the crew of the passenger train—J. F. Milles of Bakersfield, the engineer, who was scalded, and R. E. Brown, fireman, pinned under the heavy locomotive when it jumped the rails after hitting the automobile.

Six Injured
The injured: W. A. Smith, San Francisco, express messenger, back injured; Mrs. Hannah Mozelle, Fresno, a passenger, scalp lacerations; Mrs. W. H. Embler, Yountville, sprained shoulder; W. H. Embler, Yountville; J. D. Buchanan, a passenger, scalded; Frank Bradford, Los Angeles, said by train men to have been riding "blind baggage," dislocated shoulder.

The heavy locomotive jumped the rails as it struck the automobile and turned over.

Seven Cars Derailed
Two baggage cars, two coaches and three sleeping cars left the rails behind the locomotive and jolted to a stop, tearing up rails and ties. The locomotive and baggage cars were a twisted mass of wreckage.

Ritchie and his wife jumped from the car as it rolled in front of the oncoming train at Selma's main street crossing.

Main line traffic on the route was blocked for hours.

YOUTHS LOST IN SNOW RESCUED

SAN BERNARDINO. (AP)—Two boys rescued from a snow-piled canyon in the mountains early today after a frantic search, returned to school, apparently none the worse for their ordeal.

The dismal howls of a little cocker spaniel which the boys, Robert Allen, 7, and "Sandy" McPherson, 8, adapted on their exploratory hike through the mountains, led rescuers to them.

"We just started out for some exploring," Robert told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Allen.

The boys were found, shivering and wet, huddled in a hole they had dug in the snow and covered with brush.

Officers Spot Avocado Theft

He hid the two sacks of avocados behind an orange tree, but there happened to be two members of the sheriff's farm patrol watching him.

So Evan Whiting, 20, 206 San Juan street, Tustin, found himself in the county jail today faced with petty theft charges.

Deputies said he admitted stealing two sacks of the fruit from the Bob Jeffrey ranch in Tustin. An accomplice escaped.

EDICT GIVEN COUNTY ON ROAD OIL

Refining Concern Will Sue Unless Payment
Is Authorized

Pay or be sued! Next Tuesday is the deadline. Unless the Orange county board of supervisors meets the demands of the Elen Refining company for payment of $1700 for road oil delivered, suit against the county will be filed Tuesday or Wednesday.

The oil company put its cards on the table yesterday by filing a complete and itemized account of the oil delivered and its value with the county. Now it wants to know definitely what the board of supervisors will do about the situation.

Open Meeting
Through the required filing of the itemized account of the oil delivered to the county, the oil company has made sure that the matter will come up at an open meeting of the board of supervisors next Tuesday. Last week the matter was discussed in a "huddle." The Elen firm's edict was reported exclusively in The Journal the next day. Some of the board favored paying the claim; others wanted the refinery company to go ahead and sue.

In the meantime warrants for payment of the bill were held up. It was reported that District Attorney W. F. Menton has advised the board to pay the claim.

Political Motive
If the county does not pay the claim, suit will be filed on the basis that samples of the road oil taken which led to a grand jury investigation, were not taken legally; that no member of the refining company had knowledge of any discrepancy in road oil delivered; that the grand jury held that the road oil case was the result of political activities.

Charges that the road oil was defective were made in a political advertisement here during the last election campaign. W. C. Jerome, defeated for reelection as supervisor from Santa Ana, caused arrest of A. B. Berry and J. Frank Burke, charging they violated the law by publishing a political advertisement not properly signed.

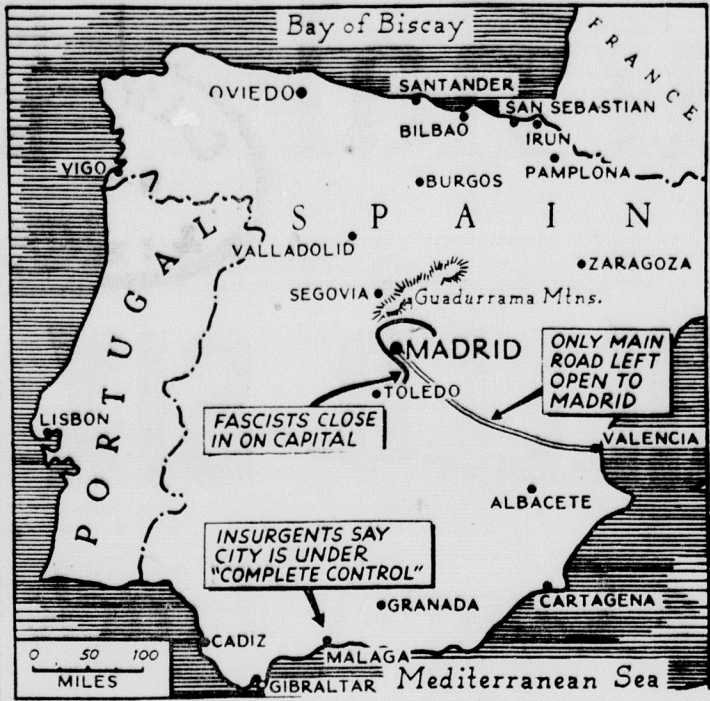

The case against Burke and Berry was dismissed. Burke filed a $50,000 false imprisonment suit against Jerome, which has not been brought to trial. Berry filed a $10,000 libel suit against William Iverson of the Elen Refining company, for referring to his newspaper as a scandal sheet.

Jaysee Donates $32 to Flood Fund

Neil McDaniel, president of the Associated Students at Santa Ana Junior college, revealed today that a sum of $32.49 had been collected from students and instructors during the past week for the Red Cross flood relief fund.

Service clubs at the Main street school joined in contributing their share to the fund. Among the highest contributors were two women's service organizations, the Moavs and Las Meninas. Las Meninas will be given an award in the near future for giving the most money in the campaign, McDaniel said.

Fascists Capture Seaport

Fascist troops marched victoriously into Malaga, Italian cable reports said, seemingly ending a "rule of the gun" by defunct anarchists and communists in the last government stronghold in the Gibraltar Straits area. Fascists also pushed their drive to encircle Madrid and cut off the remaining open highway to Valencia. (Associated Press Photo)

CHIROPRACTORS MEET HERE

Meeting at Daniger's tea room last night in the opening conference of a two-day educational program, members of the Orange County Chiropractors association voted approval of proposed changes in the state law to raise educational standards to four college years of nine months each and require attendance at annual educational courses.

Dr. James E. Slocum of Des Moines, research director of the National Chiropractic association, asserted that changes in California were necessary to meet the developments of the profession which had taken place since the present statute was enacted in 1922.

Dr. E. A. Bauer, chairman, said, "Our law needs modernizing and clarifying. We do not contemplate broadening the scope of our practice, but recognize and wish to legalize a more standard educational system."

The conference was continuing today with demonstrations of advanced technique for the treatment of insanity, nervous disorders and faulty eyesight.

"People should strive for calmness, eat proper foods, avoid stimulants and try not to hurry," Dr. Slocum said in opening the program today. "The irritable nervousness prevalent in most persons of this generation is at the root of many accidents which occur daily on our public highways."

Other speakers included Dr. Gordon M. Goodfellow, Los Angeles, president of the national organization, and Dr. Earl Doughenbaugh, Los Angeles, chairman of the state public relations work.

U. S. SMUGGLER CONVICTED
HAMBURG, Germany. (AP)—August Del Gracio of New York was convicted today of being a member of an international ring of narcotic smugglers, fined $4000 and sentenced to two months in a Nazi jail.

CITY FUTURE IS CHARTED BY SMITH

New residents for Santa Ana will cost $200 apiece during the next three years!

That's a fact, and it does not mean that the city is giving away building lots or otherwise subsidizing new residents. But it is going to give them a number of things—and the cost is going to be $200 for each new resident, be he man, woman or child.

$1,000,000 Program
If plans under consideration by the city fathers today materialize, Santa Ana will be launched in the near future on a $1,000,000 improvement program.

It will include $120,000 for outfall sewer work, $800,000 for a sewer collection system, $400,000 for a storm drain and flood control project, and $100,000 for improvement work on the ocean section of the outfall sewer plant.

A great part of this cost will be defrayed by government contributions, provided the projects are accepted by federal agencies, as planned.

40,000 People
But Councilman Joe Smith pointed out today that Santa Ana probably will gain 5000 new residents by 1940—and if that is the case the city is going to dole out plenty more in the way of preparations for them.

Councilman Smith points out that the average increase in Santa Ana population, as figured over the past seven years by the increase in the city's water taps, definitely points to the anticipated increase.

New Water Mains
With it will come a commensurate increase in water taps. And with the water taps will come new water mains, new lateral water lines, new sewage lines, and new sanitary facilities of all kinds.

The city right now is planning expansion and modernization of water department service, over a two-year period.

This includes replacing of as many two-inch mains as possible with four, six and eight-inch mains, added fire hydrants—and water taps.

Ample for MWD
The city also is planning installation of as many 12-inch mains as possible, particularly in the downtown district, Smith said. Twelve-inch mains would mean they would not have to be changed to care for MWD water.

Smith said today the city has done little about sanitation problems for a number of years. Now it has 9485 water taps in operation, with an estimated 3.60 users per tap.

And 5000 new ones coming inside of three years.

Within the next few days the question of just what will have to be done will be more or less resolved, with the report of the city's consultant sanitary engineer, Clyde C. Kennedy.

Then the city can get to work spending $200 each for new residents.

College President

Dr. Roswell G. Ham, Jr. of Yale, has been appointed president of century-old Mount Holyoke college in Boston, the first man ever to head the institution. He succeeds Dr. Mary Emma Wooley, who retires in June. A storm of protest from alumnae followed his appointment. (Associated Press photo.)

TRIBUTE PAID TO LINCOLN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Harry W. Colmery of Topeka, Kan., national commander of the American Legion, told a solemn throng gathered today at the tomb of Abraham Lincoln that the "great task" to which "Lincoln in his Gettysburg address summoned us to preserve the institutions which are the firm foundation of our democracy."

"Neither the flight of time nor the storms of strife have dimmed the import of Lincoln's address since the martyred President stood there before the oaks and pronounced a principle which guides our course as surely today as when it was first enunciated 73 years ago," Colmery said.

Chief Who Jailed Browder Reduced To Patrolman

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Chief of Police James C. Yates, who several months ago arrested Earl Browder when the Communist candidate for president sought to speak here, was reduced today to the rank of patrolman.

Mayor Sam Beecher, who supported Yates in his arrest of Browder, declined to discuss the demotion except to say it was "in the interest of harmony in the police department."

PLAN PROBE OF PACIFIC LIFE FIRM

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Investigation of the reorganization of the Pacific Mutual Insurance Co. will have no political tinge, Chairman Leon M. Donihue insisted today upon making known the names of many of the persons who have been subpoenaed.

The probe was decided on, he asserted, as the result of pressure brought to bear by numerous persons who believed the reorganization plans might not be in the best interests of the policyholders and the threat of suits against the state which, if carried out, might seek damages aggregating six or seven million dollars.

These suits, he said, are threatened by receivers which are being appointed in other states representing policyholders of the old Pacific Mutual company.

Donihue said William Neblett, law partner of U. S. Sen. William G. McAdoo, would "assist the committee" but would not be permitted to "conduct the hearing."

FLOOD BATTLE WON BY CAIRO

CAIRO, Ill. (AP)—Mayor August Bode officially proclaimed Cairo's victory over the Ohio today and removed the last of the restrictions he placed on the city during its long fight against the flooded river.

The Ohio, after rising 59.62 feet, within menacing distance of the top of Cairo's bulkhead "seawall," was falling rapidly and now was only a few inches from the 55-foot level at which the mayor had said the city was "absolutely safe."

The Red Cross began making arrangements to return women and children, evacuated when the flood waters threatened, from refugee camps at Anna, Ill., and elsewhere.

Industrial operations were returned to normalcy with the resumption of Illinois Central railroad services today for the first time since Jan. 25.

MORE ABOUT OLD JAIL

a better right to be in this here calaboose? I put up more money for the damned thing than anyone else!" Layman at the time was running the old Santa Ana hotel, located where the Otis building now is at Fourth and Main streets.

They tell a lot of funny stories about the first old calaboose. There were the two men who got tired of the cramped quarters, so one night they heaved their shoulders, lifted the roof off and scampered away.

Hank Seymour got a little too much of a load one night and they clamped him in the calaboose. His friends came to console him.

"Listen, Hank," they said, "they can't put you in here. Why, you helped build the calaboose."

Hank, the story goes, looked up long enough to remark dryly: "Well, I'm here, ain't I?"

Then there was the time a man named Souders got very high and pretty noisy. They put him in jail, but he didn't think it was very funny. He was only in there a little while when he got tired of it. So he lit a fire in the middle of the floor and was going to burn the damned place down so he could get it out—after it burned down.

The fire burned a big hole in the floor and they got him out in the nick of time.

But the local citizens weren't the biggest problem 50 years and more ago here. It was the "vags" who drifted into town and hung around too long to suit the people. They started putting them in jail but the little wooden calaboose wouldn't hold them all. So they fixed up a room in the old Bruner building basement, near the center of the 100 block on East Fourth street. The room had barricaded doors and as many as 25 to 30 hoboes would be in there at once at times.

Mortimer Hubbard, out at Tustin, knows about that old calaboose was built here. Now the building is gone and soon will all the other old landmarks around Second and Sycamore be gone, too. And there'll be a new food market where the old jailhouse used to be.

State Official Elopes to Reno

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Frank C. Jordan, veteran secretary of state of California, and Mrs. Bernice M. Wiley of Arkansas City, Kan., were married in a surprise elopement to Reno today. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Brewster Adams of the Reno Baptist church.

Jordan gave his age as 76 in applying for the license and said his former wife is deceased. The bride, a widow, said she is 47.

Hunt Girl After Clothes Found

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—State patrolmen searched today for 16-year-old Helen Meyer of Modena, missing since she left school yesterday afternoon.

The hunt started with the discovery of her hat, shoes and school books on a road near home. Searchers thought a motorist might have struck the girl and left her body in a roadside ditch.

WHITEMAN IS BEING SUED BY RAMONA

Singer Wants to Void Her Contract Held by Band Leader

NEW YORK, (AP) — Charging Paul Whiteman has "practically sold me down the river," Ramona Davies, pianist and singer known only as "Ramona" on the radio and stage, has sought an injunction to prevent the orchestra leader from enforcing his contract with her.

She accused Whiteman, in her petition in supreme court, of exploiting her "as if I were a slave or some inanimate chattel subject to all his whims, desires and wishes."

Whiteman's contract with her is to March 1, 1938. She claimed he paid her only $150 per week when he permitted her to appear with others and got some $300 to $500 a week for her services.

The Artists Management Bureau, Inc., and its president, Jack Lavin, were named co-defendants.

Another Mattson Suspect Cleared

SEATTLE, (AP) — Federal bureau of investigation agents and state patrol officers announced they had dropped questioning and further investigation of H. A. Post, 32, an ex-convict, held here in connection with kidnapping murder of Charles Mattson.

They said they were satisfied Post had nothing to do with the case.

Post was one of about 50 persons who have been held at one time or another over the country for investigation in connection with the kidnapping of the Mattson boy Dec. 27.

L. A. to Get Ruling On Parking Meter

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — City Attorney Ray L. Chesbro was asked by the Los Angeles council Wednesday to rule on the legality of installing automobile parking meters on downtown streets.

"I am tired of being lobbied by representatives of the various parking meter manufacturers and we may as well discover now whether we have the right at all to make a parking charge," said Councilman Robert S. MacAllister.

Jewish Aid Fund Campaign Started

PITTSBURGH, (AP) — The American joint distribution committee has started a campaign to raise $4,650,000 for aid to Jews in European nations.

The total was fixed by the plan and scope committee of the distribution group as the quota for the United States and Canada. It exceeds by nearly $2,000,000 the amount collected and distributed in 1936.

Misery Stalks Women of Madrid in Struggle for Meager Supplies of Food

MADRID. (Uncensored by Messenger to Paris.) (AP) — Misery stalks the women of Spain's beleaguered capital in their struggle for the meager supplies of food that remain.

Stoicism almost beyond belief marks the embattled population of the civil war-torn city, in the face of shells, bombs, unheated homes and the shortage of food.

For the men it means some kind of war work from the trenches to the factory; to the children it means a whole new life of work and play, broken by the terrifying thud of exploding shells.

But for the women it means a dull, ceaseless struggle to keep the home running—homes that, far from pleasant and warm and livable, are not even safe.

City Lives on Self
Frequently bombs, missing other objectives, plunge into the houses and the residence streets, and more than one woman has paid with her life for her patient refusal to leave the danger spot that once was the scene of her family's happiness.

Madrid is living on itself and of itself as have few cities in history. Relief has come from Valencia and Barcelona, but the chief food supply comes from the surrounding countryside, scoured daily by food commissars.

Day after day, under the crack of dawn, women gather in line in front of food shops. For hours they wait patiently for their turn to buy rice, beans, bread, olive oil and cabbage, which today form the chief diet of the Madrilenos.

Refuse to Leave Lines
Sometimes they quarrel among themselves for places in the sad line, but for the most part they show a beaten indifference, strangely contrasting with the traditional Spanish joy in life.

FLOOD LOANS BILL PASSED

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The senate and house passed and sent to the White House yesterday a bill to create a $20,000,000 disaster loan corporation to make loans to flood victims.

Charge 'Marrying Judge' Bankrupt

PHOENIX, (AP) — Earl A. Freeman, Yuma's Arizona famed "marrying judge," was named in an involuntary bankruptcy petition filed late yesterday in the U. S. district court here.

Charles A. Crouch and Harold C. Dewey, both of Los Angeles, and Mary E. Harris of Yuma were the petitioners. They charged Freeman owes them $10,836.70 in loans and interest, extending back to 1922.

Freeman, who recently retired from the office of justice of the peace, said in 10 years he had married 25,000 couples, including many Hollywood, Calif., film stars.

MISSING OIL WELL DATA SOUGHT TRIAL OVER WINDBREAK CONTINUED

A mysteriously missing survey of Southern California Drilling Company's No. 1 well at Huntington Beach will hold the center of interest Monday when trial of Standard Oil Company's slant-drilling suit against the firm resumes in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court.

Del V. Nelson, secretary-treasurer of the firm, admitted yesterday that the survey had been made Nov. 6, 1934, by the Alexander Anderson well surveying firm of Fullerton.

It was delivered to the oil firm's attorneys, then to him, he said. He told Oscar Lawler, attorney for Standard, that the survey report disappeared from a closet in his office.

Nelson admitted that an entry erased from one of his firm's reports had mentioned a survey. Standard charges that the firm slant-drilled into Standard's oil pool and asks $175,000 damages. An attempt will be made, it was indicated, to show that the well slanted into the state-owned tideland pool.

Telephone Almanac Is Distributed

A limited number of copies of the Telephone Almanac, published annually by the Bell System, are available to the public at the business office of the Southern California Telephone company, according to C. I. McDonald, district manager.

The almanac contains information about the sun, moon and stars, an average temperature and rainfall table for principal cities throughout the nation, a rubric for children, and numerous historical features. Copies will be given free to persons calling at the business office of the telephone company.

Involving the fate of many a windbreak in Orange county, a superior court controversy between W. H. Dotter, Orange rancher, and Mrs. Adolphina B. Schroeder, his neighbor, today claimed the interest of attorneys and farmers alike.

Presiding Judge H. G. Ames late yesterday continued the trial, in which Dotter asks $2500 damages and removal of Mrs. Schroeder's windbreak, until Monday morning.

Dotter contends that the windbreaks shade three rows of citrus trees in his grove and that the roots extend 50 feet onto his property, depriving trees of moisture and food.

His attorney, Martell E. Thompson, introduced picking records to show that the trees near the windbreak produce fewer oranges than others in the grove.

Defense Attorney Gordon X. Richmond, however, brought Burton A. Allen, of the Association Laboratory, with an analysis of tree sizes and conditions which contradicted the contention. Allen will resume the stand Monday for cross examination.

Many farmers with windbreaks are preparing agreements with their neighbors as a result of the Dotter-Schroeder controversy, it was reported.

STATE GRANTED SECURITY FUND

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The social security board has announced a grant of $121,904 to California for administration of its unemployment compensation system from Jan. 1 to March 31.

NORRIS SEES 'DANGER' IN COURT PLAN

But He Plans to Support F. D. R. Change If No Other Aid Found

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Norris (D-Ind-Neb.) said after a White House conference yesterday he saw "danger" in President Roosevelt's proposal to increase the membership of the supreme court.

The veteran Nebraskan, last of a long line of callers who talked judicial reform during the day, added he would support the President's program if it was the only remedy left, but added that he believed there were other ways of achieving the same end.

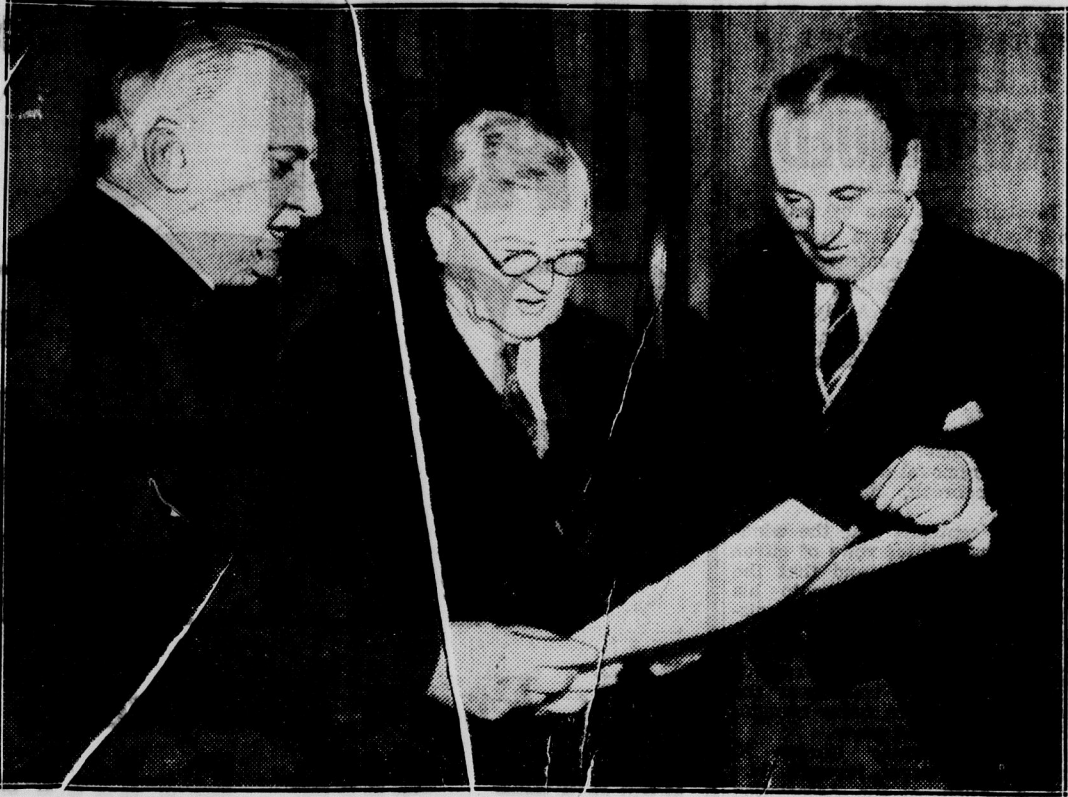

"There are lots of legislative remedies we can pursue, as well as constitutional amendments," he said. "I'm not advocating any particular amendment, but there are a good many that would solve the problem."

Norris said he would favor providing that the high court could not hold a law unconstitutional by a mere majority.

Low British Birth Rate Is Alarming to Bachelors

LONDON, (AP)—Perplexed British legislators—bachelors all—brought the government yesterday to do something about the strange scarcity of girl babies in England.

Bachelor Ronald Cartland, 30, Conservative, put the question of the commonwealth's posterity up to the government, urging it to "make recommendations thereto."

He was particularly concerned that not enough girl babies were being born to take their places as future British mothers, thus accelerating the declining birth-rate.

200 Bachelor Members
"Why?" asked Bachelor Cartland of his fellow members of the house of commons, "why are we having fewer children than in the past?"

Quick to answer was fellow bachelor and Conservative Richard A. Pilkington. Rising to his feet and fixing the members with a rebuking stare, he declared: "I learn with amazement and horror that even in this house there are nearly 200 bachelors."

"Shame! Shame!" the commons cried.

Father of 17 Silent
Throughout the debate, Arthur Hayday, member for West Nottingham and father of 17 children, sat in silence, even when the government promised a full investigation of Britain's decrease in births.

Cartland pointed out the birth rate in Great Britain had dropped steadily since 1875.

As a solution for the problem, Pilkington suggested a tax on himself and his fellow bachelors would solve the problem by making marriage and paternity more attractive.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Forces of rehabilitation followed the slugsish crest down the Mississippi today while sandboils gave New Orleans a taste of flood troubles.

The valley's largest city felt the first direct result of the Mississippi's record burden late yesterday when water bubbling through a large sandbail submerged three square blocks of wharf area to a depth of 18 inches.

Hundreds of laborers hurriedly sandbagged the leak and no major levee threat was seen in the flow caused by river pressure forcing water through loess soil strata beneath the dikes.

Meanwhile, the big river crept toward record heights along the lower valley but created no major crisis.

Barclay to Wed Carolina Model
BEAUNTSVILLE, S. C. (AP)—Mrs. John M. Moore revealed today that McClelland Barclay, the legislator, and her daughter, Miss Virginia Moore, planned to be married "in about a month."

Barclay last fall selected the 22-year-old South Carolina beauty to pose for the portrait that was used in the Republican national campaign.

Miss Moore, daughter of a prominent planter and cotton broker here, was graduated from the University of South Carolina in 1935. She has been a model in New York for the past year and a half.

No Golden Gate Bridge Stamps
WASHINGTON, (AP)—The post-office department has rejected proposals to issue a special stamp commemorating the completion of the Golden Gate bridge at San Francisco.

Sentenced, But Can't Enter Pen
SAN RAFAEL, (AP)—John Stoudamire, former operator of a Fresno club, marked time in the county jail today because he lacked the entrance requirements to San Quentin penitentiary.

A judge who sentenced Stoudamire to San Quentin for life for killing Walter McElroy during a card game last October, forgot to sign Stoudamire's commitment papers.

Snow Plows Scrape Up 100 'Buttons' Worth $8 Each
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Souvenir collectors who go for street buttons (stop signals) could have a good time in Portland—if they had their own snow plows.

After last week's record snowfall was scraped off city streets, 100 of the buttons were missing. Police Capt. Fred M. West said the gadgets are worth $8 each.

DATA READY FOR FLOOD PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Army engineers said today they have all the basic data needed for a comprehensive national flood control project. Unofficial estimates placed the cost at $1,500,000,000 over a 10-year period.

Major General Edward M. Markham, chief of engineers, said information assembled in the last nine years at a cost of $11,000,000 would enable him to submit such a program to congress within a few days.

Among the projects recommended will be flood control reservoirs on big river tributaries, dikes to protect centers of population, and floodways.

Although General Markham declined to discuss his flood control plans in advance of his house committee appearance, he was expected to follow recommendations which he and the Mississippi river

SEEK BAN ON SOLICITING MARRIAGES

YUMA, Ariz. (AP)—Superior Judge Henry C. Kelly has issued a temporary injunction restraining Justice of the Peace Ed Winn or his "agents" from soliciting marriages in the county.

The order was obtained by the Rev. R. R. Pulliam, pastor of the First Baptist church, who charged that solicitation of marriages on behalf of the justice of the peace deprived him of the right to perform such ceremonies.

Judge Kelly said the order was returnable in his court Feb. 20.

An Ohioan obtained from Panama the right for the U. S. to build the Panama canal.

The Shakers carried on their form of worship in a villa on the outskirts of the city. There they gathered and worked themselves into a semi-hysterical state by shaking and trembling.

MARTIN-SENOUR

100% PURE MONARCH PAINT

Is a Cheap Rate of Insurance

Is your home like one of those pictured above? Have you hesitated to give it a much-needed coat of paint because of the cost? You needn't worry about that. Martin-Senour Paint is a cheap rate of insurance against the destructive rays of the sun and the ravages of rain, snow, wind and cold. But takes a 100% paint like Monarch to do the job right.

When you buy Monarch House Paint you are sure of getting 100% pure paints. It is made of pure carbonate of lead, pure zinc oxide, linseed oil, turpentine with necessary amounts of drier and color—the identical formula that is recognized as standard for a 100% pure paint.

Use Monarch and you'll never find the paint on your house cracking or peeling. Neither will it flake off nor turn crumbly. A coat of Monarch House Paint lasts for years and coats your home with tiny metal-like shields that defy rot and decay, sun or storm.

HOP AROUND GLOBE PLAN OF AMELIA

Woman Flier to Start
27,000-Mile Flight
Next Month

NEW YORK. (AP)—Amelia Earhart will assume the role of "guinea pig" next month in a globe-girdling air trip in which she hopes to "find out more about the reactions of human beings to flight."

Dressed in brown slacks, her clear blue eyes shining with anticipation, the only woman to fly solo over the Atlantic and Pacific announced her plans to start in March on a 27,000-mile westward flight around the world.

"It's something I want to do more than anything else in the world," she said.

Describes Route
As casually as a housewife outlining a shopping tour, she described the route to be taken, "as close to the equator as I can go."

Capt. Harry Manning, a sea captain frequently decorated for heroism in ocean rescues, will accompany Mrs. Putnam as navigator, at least across the Pacific.

"I'm going to dump him off somewhere after we are across the Pacific," she said.

First to Honolulu
"From Oakland we will fly to Honolulu," she said, "then we plan to hop across the Pacific on the longest water flight, 2500 miles to Howland island, just a speck in the ocean."

Step by step she traced her projected route . . . eastward from Howland island to Lae, New Guinea . . . to Darwin, Australia . . . northward over the regular England-Australia air route . . . across Africa over a path not yet determined . . . from Dakar, Africa, to Natal, Brazil, across the South Atlantic . . . and finally back to Oakland, by way of either Miami or Mexico.

"Eventually, airplanes will go around the world in all directions," said Mrs. Putnam. "But commercial aviation never comes until after experimental flights have been made. Every ocean flight since Lindbergh's has contributed something of value to aviation."

All for Science
Her greatest scientific interest in the globe-girdling, she said, will be to "find out more about the reactions of human beings to flight."

"I am going to be the guinea pig this time," she laughed. "I want to know what food is best for long flights, to find out what happens to human beings during hours of flying and why."

Her plane, she said, will carry a maximum of 1150 gallons of fuel, enough for a 4000-mile flight "if I stretch it far enough."

Van Sweringen Farm for Sale

CLEVELAND. (AP)—Daisy Hill farm, the proud secluded little kingdom on Cleveland's outskirts, from which the late Van Sweringen brothers, O. P. and M. J., commanded a railroad empire in the quiet and exclusive atmosphere they cherished, had a "for sale" sign on it today.

Burdened with debt and bereft of its two bachelor rulers, Daisy Hill with its 11 master chambers and its indoor swimming pool became the property of the Union Trust company.

Defendant Says Case Is Over, But Judge Decides Not

CHICAGO. (AP)—Adolph Wessman smiled, and said blithely: "The case is over, judge. I paid the damage bill on that car I hit."

The judge thought differently. "Three days for reckless driving," he snapped. "Now the case is over."

Quadruplets Make an Armful

Europe's newest quadruplets are shown in the arms of their mother, Smaranda Radu, 37, while their father, Michel Jerea, gazes in wonder at the three boys and one girl. The "squads" were born to their unmarried parents Jan. 23. (Associated Press Photo)

JAPAN CABINET CUTS BUDGET

TOKYO. (AP)—The new cabinet of Premier Senjuro Hayashi, alarmed by soaring prices for the necessities of life, slashed 269,000,000 yen ($76,559,150) today from Japan's record-breaking budget for 1937-38. The new total was 2,769,000,000 yen.

It amounted to approximately $790,000,000 at the current exchange value on the yen (28.5390 cents), as compared with the approximately $870,000,000 called for in the budget compiled by Finance Minister Eijichiro Baba in the recently resigned cabinet of Premier Koki Hirota.

The ministers, approving the budgetary estimates for the fiscal year from next April 1 to March 31, 1938, cut $13,126,100 from the army and navy appropriations, in equal slices of 23,000,000 yen ($8,563,050).

The new army estimates were set at 704,000,000 yen ($200,886,000), and for the navy at 658,000,000 yen ($187,760,330).

Crime Takes a Holiday in S. A.

Crime merchants took a holiday along with government employees today, the occasion being Lincoln's birthday. The police reporter had a tough time making news out of reports there.

A woman called about a drunk on the sidewalk, but the drunk was gone when police arrived.

Investigation showed a fire at a West Fifth street junk yard yesterday, which partially damaged an already destroyed car, started from defective wiring.

William Craig, barber in the Arcade building, brought in a bicycle a youthful customer had left at his shop.

And that was all.

U. S. Stamp Taxes In State Told

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The treasury has reported internal revenue receipts from documentary and playing card stamp taxes collected in California during 1936 totaled $2,530,988. The collections in 1935 were $2,311,399.

Lincoln Had His Troubles With Job-Seekers, Too

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Patronage-hounded congressmen found comfort today in recalling, on Abraham Lincoln's birthday, that he, too, had trouble with job hunters.

One representative, browsing among the Lincolniana in the Library of Congress, discovered this anecdote.

"One administration senator early in the Civil war, noting Lincoln appeared dejected, inquired: 'Have you heard bad news from Fort Sumter?'"

"No," answered the President

sadly, "it's the postoffice at Jonesville, Mo."

The book also told the story about Lincoln's persistent bald-headed caller from Philadelphia. "Did you ever try this stuff on your hair?" asked the President, taking a bottle from a cabinet.

"No," said the visitor, "I haven't."

"Well, do so," continued Lincoln, "and come back in eight or 10 months and tell me how it works."

He got rid of him—for eight or 10 months.

"No," said the visitor, "I haven't."

Many Applicants For Liquor Sale Former Criminals

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—The San Francisco Examiner said today that fingerprinting of 16,000 Southern California liquor license applicants disclosed more than 1200 of them had criminal records, and some of them were fugitives from justice.

The disclosure, said the paper, was being studied here as a means of preventing undesirable persons from being granted liquor licenses in the northern part of California.

Ray Edgar, state equalization board member from El Centro, was quoted as expressing gratification at the results of the finger-

Signature of Lincoln Found On S. B. Papers

SANTA BARBARA. (AP)—The signature of President Abraham Lincoln was found today on age-stained documents brought to light by County Recorder Yris Covarrubias. The papers confirmed to Franciscan Fathers the ownership of the missions of Santa Barbara and Santa Ines.

They were dated May 3, 1862, and substantiated the findings of a land title commission.

EXCLUSION OF DISEASED IS HELD LEGAL

Webb Rules State Can Establish Medical Border Patrol

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Att. General U. S. Webb ruled late yesterday that California has the power to establish, "with limitation," some sort of medical border patrol to exclude persons suspected as disease carriers.

Webb answered in the affirmative the query of Dr. Walter M. Dickie, state health director, whether the health department is empowered to require medical examinations at the border to exclude diseased persons, indigent and not entitled to care as California residents.

But the attorney general warned that examination should be made by "qualified personnel" and that they could not legally be made on newcomers to the state unless also made on Californians who are re-entering.

Dr. Dickie declared some 2,000 itinerants had entered the state in the last two years and that many of these were infected with trachoma, tuberculosis, dysentery, typhoid and other diseases.

Webb said the state's right of inspection and exclusion was "clearly supported by reason and authority" but that such power should be exercised only "when public necessity demands it" and "not upon their suspicion."

Adult Education News

A total of 340 new enrollments have been made in adult classes since the opening of the second semester on Feb. 1st. The new class in home hygiene and nursing, taught by Miss Gertrude Schroeder, has an enrollment of 49. Since this is a Red Cross course it will be necessary to divide the class into two groups. This division will be made next Tuesday evening.

Gardens are going to need lots of help in the next few weeks. Ted Blanding will give many valuable tips in the gardening class which meets at Lathrop on Monday evenings.

C. E. Perry is the new shorthand and bookkeeping teacher. He has had many years of practical experience as well as teaching experience. He fills the vacancy created when Miss Eleanor Ellis was appointed to a full-time position in the high school at Wasco.

There is still room for a few more students in the typing classes. Mrs. Helen Walden, the instructor, gives special attention to individual problems.

Jack Lackland, manager of the Orange County market, is much interested in building replicas of period furniture in the woodshop class. He is working on a wing chair and a walnut bedstead. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bass are having a good time making furniture for their home in the same class.

The Lathrop branch of the city library has given individual copies of non-fiction reading lists to members of the English classes.

The adult students are enjoying a new form of publicity. Each week they are given a 10 inch column of news items and announcements. This is called The Evening High School Pep News and is printed at the high school print shop.

Miss Thelma Patton, who has been teaching swimming on Tuesday evenings, has been transferred from the local SRA office to the SRA work of Imperial valley. The swimming class has been discontinued.

Floyd Wright is repeating his first semester course in aviation ground school. It is a good time to enter the class.

The attractive display of craft work last week in Rankin's window has resulted in many new enrollments. We now have some men in the metal craft class.

Members of the sewing classes will have a special treat next Tuesday evening. The instructor, Mrs. Blanche Palmer, has arranged to have Mrs. Alberta Blake of Rankin's bring samples of new fabrics and talk about spring styles.

Men and their hobbies! Many of them come to the machine shop for help with their hobbies. They rebuild their rifles, make telescope mountings, model airplane motors, drill presses, small milling machines and home workshop equipment. Others repair tools and farm equipment. The welding class is anxiously awaiting that new electric welder.

Mr. Peck of the mineralogy class is running a special section to help new students line up for work with the class. These plans will be announced next Tuesday evening at Lathrop.

Next Monday evening the adult department will present Dr. Hubert Phillips as forum leader for the meeting at the high school auditorium. He will discuss "The Supreme Court and Social Change." Why not visit some of these classes?

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(Opinions and comment expressed in this column are not necessarily those of The Journal.—Editor's note.)

Today, on the anniversary of his birthday, we have again remembered the great American who remembersed others. The footprints of Abraham Lincoln in the sands of time have endeared him to all the world. He loved humanity with a great love and in similar measure humanity returns his love. He labored in the cause of a righteous justice with every power at his command. "While his lamp of life held out to burn," he freighted his every act with a quality of human kindness all too uncommon among the most of men. He wanted for his fellow-men the free and unhindered exercise of all these privileges which marks and makes of them free men. That freedom as included and guaranteed under the constitution of the United States was a thing to be enjoyed by not just a portion of the citizens but by every man, woman and child in the care of the government, was his conviction and belief. He believed that government should be administered without favoritism to any particular class of citizens. He believed that all men, regardless of their race or color, whether they possessed wealth or had lack of it, should be protected in their rights as free citizens. It was his conviction that only by adherence to this policy could there be assurance that "freedom shall not perish from the earth."

Lincoln was a man of strong emotions. But he also reasoned clearly. His convictions were formulated upon the basis of accurate and broad information. He could not shut his eyes to known injustice. He fought relentlessly against the enemies of justice. By so doing he expressed the degree of his love for humanity. He believed that every man was involved with a responsibility for the rights of others. With Lincoln his own personal cost in preserving the rights of others was not a thing to be considered. Any free man who quailed before such responsibility in his opinion was a coward. He held the conviction that only men who were willing to be used in the maintenance of freedom and justice were worthy to be free men.

With Abraham Lincoln the call to the presidency of the United

DAMAGES WON FOR INJURY

Mrs. Sadie E. Milton and her husband, Charles E. Milton, were awarded $1860.54 damages yesterday by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel in their suit against Henry A. Baldwin and Jack Dougherty over an automobile accident.

Mrs. Milton suffered a strained back, shock, and other injuries when her car and one driven by Dougherty collided at Flower and Eighth streets, Santa Ana, last June 14.

States was not an opportunity for self-glorification. It was an opportunity to serve a great people. It was an opportunity to insure through the administration of government that the people would have their rightful privilege of expressing themselves in both their own affairs and in the cause of government. He did not seek to impose upon the people a program of his own that would involve a reconstruction of the basis of government. But he did seek to insure the continuance of those great principles of government upon which the exercise of freedom had been built. He entered the White House to serve—not to be served. And because he humbled himself and became the servant of all—today, we have again exalted him in our hearts as the truly great American.

In the nation another crisis has arisen. The cause of human freedom once again hangs in the balance. "Wrong rules the land and waiting justice weeps." The call for volunteers in the cause of justice once again is heard. Shall the right to religious liberty, the right to representation in government, the right to expression of opinions through the medium of a free press and free speech be taken from us? These are questions which today are everywhere being asked by the American people and rightfully so. There are threats abroad in the land that such might become our loss. As valiant Americans we will rally to the cause of freedom as did the patriots of Lincoln's time. Truth is eternal. Lincoln expressed truth when he said, "This nation can not exist half free and half slave." Today that truth still holds. Men will not be chained by economic bonds away from the wealth that everywhere abounds within the nation. They will not always suffer the privations that result from lack of economic adjustments which are possible and needful. There is a way, a peaceful way, by which relief agencies and dispensing offices can be made no longer necessary. There is a way by which the greed of money changers can be prevented from

Men Frame Dime That Saved Them From Plane Death

PITTSBURG, Calif. (AP)—Two men put a 10-cent piece in a frame today and hung it in their store here.

Michael Gatto and Dave Irvin said it was the dime they flipped in Los Angeles Tuesday to decide whether to return to San Francisco by train or by the air liner that later crashed in San Francisco bay, causing 11 deaths.

The dime came up tails and the men took the train.

"Tails won, so did our heads," reads a sign on the frame.

NO CORONATION RITE IN INDIA

LONDON, (AP)—King George VI has informed the secretary of state for India he will be unable to hold a coronation durbar in India next fall or winter.

Queen Elizabeth's health, it was felt, could not stand the strain of both the London and Indian celebrations, scheduled for May and November, respectively.

The India office said it was hoped the king would be able to hold the durbar at a later date.

reaping at the expense of the people their unjust gains. Lincoln's righteous soul boiled with indignation because of sufferings which were being endured by an enslaved people of his time. His indignation culminated in action which brought freedom to that people. There are slaves today who need freeing. Is your love for the oppressed as great as that which made Abraham Lincoln our beloved American?

Tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Townsend theater at 218 East Fourth street, Edward F. Trefz, national director of the Townsend movement and former national secretary of the national chamber of commerce—a powerful orator, will lecture on the Townsend plan cause. He will point out to you how some 20,000,000 and more Americans are striving to bring about the economic freedom so sorely needed in the American nation. He is just recently from Washington, D. C. and has the facts to relate relative to the congressional steering committee, now selected to guide the Townsend bill through the seventy-fifth congress. Come out tomorrow evening. The Hurd-Lentz orchestra, will entertain with a concert previous to the mass meeting. Admission is free.

M'ELROY GIRL THREATENED

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Threat of a second kidnapping for Miss Mary McElroy, who was ransomed for $30,000 in 1933 by her father, City Manager H. F. McElroy, became known yesterday with filing of federal extortion charges against a woman.

It was charged that the woman, Joyce McGee, wrote a threatening letter to McElroy early this week. It was signed Joyce Richetti, and was mailed from a hospital to which the woman was taken when she became ill while serving a vagrancy sentence.

Miss McElroy was held captive by kidnapers for 29 hours in May, 1933. She was released unharmed after her father and brother, Henry F. McElroy, Jr., paid the ransom.

Walter McGee was convicted of the kidnapping under a state law and sentenced to hang. The sentence was commuted to life imprisonment for him. George McGee, a brother of Walter, also was convicted in the case and sentenced to life in prison. Clarence Click, another accomplice, received an eight-year sentence.

Officials said they knew of no relationship between the accused woman and the McGee brothers.

Japan to Send Goodwill Group

TOKYO, (AP)—A special economic goodwill mission will be sent to the United States in April by the Japan economic federation.

Its purpose will be to foster cultural and economic relations between the two countries.

The delegation, scheduled to arrive in the United States about the middle of April, will be composed of five of the most influential Japanese business men. Its leader will be chosen separately from among the highest industrialists in the nation.

College Students Write Home Now

MORAGA, (AP)—College students are better boys now than they used to be, on the word of Brother Joseph, postmaster at St. Mary's college.

His belief is based on the increased volume of mail which he handles. The average student writes home every nine days and receives an answer every seven days, his records show. Freshmen students write the most letters, sophomores write the fewest.

PROPOSE DEAL ON PAROLED PRISONERS

Bill Provides Contract With Other States For Supervision

(Editor's Note: This is the fifth of a series of articles on distinctive or unusual measures pending in the state legislature.)

SACRAMENTO. (P)—Contracts with other states, for the supervision of paroled prisoners, would be sought by California if senate bill 259, by Senator Knowland, Alameda, becomes a law.

Senator Knowland's measure is based upon an act passed by congress in 1934, giving states the right to enter into contracts with each other for the prevention of crime.

Consent Required

Senator Knowland proposes that California enter into agreements with the other states to supervise activities of their paroled prisoners in return for similar supervision over this state's parolees, who have left the state boundaries to obtain employment. Consent of the receiving state to accept the paroled prisoner would be required. Principal provisions of the act would be:

Each receiving state would assume the duties of visitation and supervision of probationers under its own standards.

Extradition Waived

Accredited officers of a sending state would be allowed to enter a receiving state to retake a paroled prisoner. Legal requirements to obtain extradition on the part of contracting states would be waived.

Accredited officers of the sending state would be permitted to transport retaken probationers through the territory of contracting states without interference.

The governor of each state would designate an officer to promulgate rules and regulations to make the contract effective.

Contracts would remain in force until officially renounced by a contracting state.

Prison Goods

Assembly bill 1129, introduced by Assemblyman Walker, Westmoreland, would give permission to members of farm cooperatives to apply to the state board of prison directors for permission to purchase prison-made jute bags.

The measure provides that an affidavit must accompany the application stating that the bags will be used only by members of the cooperative.

Payment of counsel, appointed by court to defend a prisoner, is provided in an amendment to the penal code submitted in A. B. 1130 by Assemblyman Walker. The amendment provides that the court must recommend compensation for the appointed attorney, and the board of supervisors is authorized to fix the amount to be paid out of the county's general fund. The amendment would not apply to counties or cities in which a public defender is elected or appointed.

CALIFORNIA HAS HAY FAMINE

SAN FRANCISCO. (P)—California is experiencing a hay famine, in spite of keeping its place as the greatest alfalfa-producing state in the nation last year.

The Sacramento valley, normally a great hay exporter, has been running on short rations for weeks because of inability to import enough, even with the price soaring to $30 a ton.

This price compares with $20 a ton last year and is more than double the 1935 price of around $13-$14 a ton.

Westover to Talk At Midweek Meet

Senator Harry Westover will be the speaker at the mid-week meeting at the Unitarian church next week. "A Review of Pending Legislation" will be his subject, and it will afford his audience an opportunity to watch the developments of state legislation through the eyes of their newly-elected senator.

The meeting is public and will enable local citizens to hear and question their elected spokesman in framing the laws under which they function. The meeting will be called to order at 7:30 p. m.

ANAHEIM, TUSTIN BEGIN PLAYOFF TONIGHT

Column Left

Apparently tired of carrying the burden alone, Jim Coates will ask the Santa Ana Stars for a relief hurler in the National Nightball league this season. . . . He prefers Ray Hodgson of Garden Grove, onetime teammate who pitched Irvine to the County league title in '36.

John Casey, Pomona's Eastern J. C. all-conference fullback, is a cousin of the Santa Ana Casey—Art, Jack and Don.

Stan Gould, the Brea-Olinda coach, picks Tustin to defeat Anaheim in the County Prep league basketball playoffs opening in Orange tonight.

Wonder if Promoter Sam Sampson will bring any of those women wrestlers to the Orange County Athletic club?

University of Texas, which has Nebraska's retiring coach, Dana Bible, under a 10-year contract at a reported $15,000 a year, optimistically opens spring football practice March 1. . . . Knute Rockne once said he considered Bible the finest young coach in America. And Rockne knew what he was talking about because Bible, now at 45, boasts an all-time coaching record of 147 games won, 42 lost and 16 tied over a period of 24 years. . . . He guided Texas A. and M. to five Southwest conference titles in 10 seasons prior to winning six crowns in eight campaigns at Nebraska in the Big Six.

Sharkey Plumlee reports in the Huntington Beach News that Mrs. Anne Vrana O'Brien, his community's ace sprinter who participated in the 1936 Olympics in Berlin, does not contemplate hanging up her spikes this year.

In fact, Mrs. O'Brien has begun already to get in trim for '37 competition.

The Saints have uncovered a fine high-jumping prospect in sophomore Bob Frias, who Coach Reese Greene believes will scale six feet his first season. . . . Elson Gaeb of the Dons already has approached this height, but long-legged Blas Mercurio, supposedly the junior college's best bet, hasn't attained 5'10 as yet. Mercurio is capable of 6'2 or 6'3.

The Coast league of which Santa Ana High is a member will have a 1937 basketball champion tonight, San Diego's Hillers, who eliminated Alhambra's graduation-riddled quintet last week, will fight it out with Long Beach Poly on the latter's floor for the right to enter the C. I. F. playoffs.

Out for practice only two days, Elson Gaeb high-jumped 5 feet, 10 inches at Santa Ana Jaycee yesterday.

Cyril Nichols, Orange sprinter, appeared in suit for the first time in a week. Cameron Gillis, premier broad jumper, has finally donned a suit. Pole vaulters are still scarce although Cook hopes to lure out Lewis Tadlock and Erwin Yuel. Virgil Stevens is approaching 110 feet in the discus, and Dick Tauber, the Wichita giant, is showing improvement in the platter-tossing event.

Bomber Confident of Easy Victory Over Natie Brown

By EARL HILLIGAN

CHICAGO. (AP)—Joe Louis, who until he met Max Schmeling, used to name the round in which he was making life miserable for sparring partners these days, but saying not a word about his prospective title bout here next June with Champion James J. Braddock.

The Brown Bomber is working out daily for his 10-round match next Wednesday night at Kansas City with Natie Brown of Washington, and Louis' sparring partners are leading Joe a merry chase—a la Bob Pastor—before getting flattened.

"No, I'm not saying anything about Braddock," Joe grunted as he worked on the heavy bag, "but

Re-Elect Wentz President of Nightball

EIGHT TEAMS CONSIDERED FOR 1937

Long Beach, San Pedro, Brea May Apply for League Franchises

With President Walter Wentz of Garden Grove and his 1936 regime back in the driver's seat, National Nightball league machinery began functioning for 1937 today, with negotiations definitely under way for an eight-team setup.

Convening in Garden Grove last night, business managers and other officials of the six-spoke wheel discussed the plan of awarding two new franchises—probably to Long Beach, Brea or San Pedro—but the matter was tabled by Huntington Beach's champions, Santa Ana, Orange, Westminster, Anaheim and Olive, present members of the league.

Gelker May Move
Manager Ben Gelker of Olive was granted permission to move his franchise to some other community, with the right to retain all of his present players, but Gelker did not indicate to which community—if any—he would transfer.

President Wentz will be assisted in his duties by John Wilcox of Santa Ana, vice president; Lee McClelland of Olive, secretary-treasurer, and Eddie West of Santa Ana, official scorer. Wilcox, business manager of the Santa Ana Stars, has been mentioned as a candidate for the Southern California association presidency to succeed Judge G. C. Cravath of Laguna Beach and if elected, he would sever relations with Santa Ana, it was said.

The San Joaquin valley league, President Wentz has been notified, is anxious to join the Southern California association of the National and American leagues. Admittance of the "outlaw" league would mean a three-way playoff for the annual championship.

Whether Pitcher Louie Neva, the peerless Russian, who has been released by Huntington Beach, will join Anaheim remains a matter of speculation. Bill Feinstern, business manager of the Valencia, admitted Neva had contacted him for a job, but denied he had signed nightball's wonder chucker.

Discuss New Rules
Fred Grable of the Huntington Beach commission reported numerous letters had been written urging the return of Joe Rodgers as player-manager of the Huntington Beach Oilers, and that hope of retaining the colorful pilot has not vanished.

Most of the club officials were closed-mouthed over their 1937 prospects. Informal discussion was held on new rules which would limit pitchers to one delivery and levy a heavy fine on any manager caught dickering with other clubs' players. No action was taken on the proposals.

Arizona State of Flagstaff 58, Texas Tech 39.

I'm kind of burned up about cracks I can't knock out Brown. I'm going to prove I can whip him in less than 10 rounds (Brown once stayed 10 with Joe at Detroit) and if I ever get the Pastor in the ring again he'll have more than a bicycle—he'll need a motorcycle to keep out of my way.

"I learned my second lesson from Pastor. My first was when I fought Schmeling. One was that I should protect the left side of my jaw and the other was that I had to increase my speed or finish second in a foot race that should be a fight."

Joe's sparring partners are showing him speed. Instructed to back pedal, they are making Joe step around, and he has been catching and flooring them regularly.

Meanwhile, the forces working to bring the Braddock-Louis 15-round title bout here next June were marking time. Joe Triner, athletic commission chairman, said articles will be signed Feb. 18 or 19.

CHANCEVIEW TO RUN FOR VANDERBILT

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Chanceview, the 4-year-old Kentucky gelding which whipped a select field of favorites in the San Carlos last week, will wear the colors of young Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt when the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap day rolls around Feb. 27.

Vanderbilt bought the handicap nominee from J. J. Flanagan of Lexington, Ky., yesterday for a price believed to be more than $20,000. Flanagan acquired Chanceview for his young son, Bill, from J. E. Widener, some time ago, and was reported to have turned down an offer of $20,000 only recently from A. A. Baroni, Nevada horseman and owner of a string that includes Top Row.

Chanceview, son of Chance Shot by Look up, won in the slop last week over a field that included Indian Broom, Mr. Bones and Exothorn.

As Santa Anita officials prepared for today's feature race, the $150,000 Abraham Lincoln handicap at six-furlongs, word was awaited from Florida on the possibility that Roman Soldier, Elwood Sachsenmaier's great 4-year-old, might be shipped here for the $100,000 classic. Accolade, Cloud D'or, Speed to Spare, Exhibit and four others were entered in today's handicap.

GRID CHANGES DISCUSSED

NEW YORK. (AP)—Regulations governing intercollegiate football will get their annual examination under the critical eyes of the National Collegiate A. A. rules committee and officials and coaches' advisory groups at a three-day session starting tonight at Absecon, N. J.

Topping the program is an unrestricted discussion of the forward pass interference regulation. The view of each of the 19 members of the amalgamated committees will be sought, while at least two suggestions virtually are certain to receive serious consideration.

One recommended by coaches, would eliminate bodily contact between two or more eligible players as constraining interference on a pass. The other would create a zone for the passer, 10 or 15 yards behind the line of scrimmage, with the idea of speeding up the play, and eliminate long looping passes which telegraph the play to the opposition and usually result in a bad scramble for the ball.

SCHMELING DUE IN U. S. SOON

BERLIN. (AP)—Max Schmeling will sail next Friday for the United States for an exhibition tour of 22 American cities starting March 1.

Schmeling denied he had any intention of bringing legal action against Champion Jimmy Braddock or Joe Louis, Detroit negro, if they meet for the heavyweight title in Chicago as now appears likely. Schmeling and Braddock are under contract to Madison Square Garden, for a title match in New York in June.

Manager Dykes of Chicago White Sox in Pasadena

PASADENA. (AP)—Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox began laying plans today for the arrival of his club early next month for spring training.

J. C. RUGGERS SEE TROJANS PERFORM

Santa Ana Junior college rugby players, accompanied by Coaches Ernest Butterworth and Bill Cook, will see the Stanford-U. S. C. rugby match tomorrow afternoon in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

The purpose of the trek is for the two mentors to contact university athletic officials about a proposed contest between the Dons and the Trojan frosh next Thursday. Cook also will make a final bid for a football date with the Trojans next fall.

Approximately 20 Dons have appeared each afternoon at Poly field to learn the rudiments of rugby.

Particular stress has been placed on the rugby backs in passing the ball around down field, while the scrum has been emphasizing getting the ball to the backs.

The roster: Dan Boyd, Lyndon Crisman, Dick Connell, Joe Crawford, Fred Erdhaus, Bob Paul, Joe Herbert, Fred Lentz, John McBride, Les Minder, Hal Mosiman, Minoru Nitta, Fred Pinkston, Bob Pannell, Chet Riley, Howard Rash, Rusty Roquet, Mark Stewart, Ed Stapp, Virgil Stevens, Al Tittensor, Jack Tumber, Fred Wagner, Pete Kotlar, Gene McCann, Bill Twist, Art Salsbury, Dick Tauber and Bob Alexander.

Mosiman has been the week's only casualty with a twisted knee. Nitta has been recovering from a severe ankle injury sustained during early practice sessions.

STANFORD FIVE PLAYS BRUINS

The Bruin cage aggregation will have another opportunity to state its high scoring Stanford Indian hoopers tonight at Pacific Auditorium. Associated Sportscaster Frank Bull will describe the game over KEHE at 8 o'clock.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Stanford University's Redskin basketball squad and the Bruins of University of California meet at Pacific Auditorium tonight in a game that should bring another scalp to the Indians' string.

With both teams featuring a fast breaking offense, a fair battle was promised despite the invaders' known advantage.

GEHRIG, DEAN ARE SEEKING $50,000

Fifty Players Involved as Holdout Problems Hit Majors Again

NEW YORK. (AP)—Draw up a chair, folks, and get an earful of the howls. The holdout season gets under way officially today.

Signaling the open season on salary squawks, Dizzy Dean's contract should reach his home in Bradenton, Fla., and the expectant roar should be heard at all way points to St. Louis.

In the East, the boys jumped the gun by a day when Lou Gehrig, number one world champion Yankee balker, and Owner Col. Jake Ruppert exchanged pleasantries on why the iron horse couldn't get $50,000 this year.

But while Dean and Gehrig, each asking $50,000, are the number one reallittrants, the ballyhoos accompanying their tussles with the management isn't overshadowing a sudden attack of holdoutitis from end to end of the big time.

An Associated Press survey disclosed that the only clubs not bothered by unsigned contract troubles at the moment are the Boston Bees and Philadelphia Phillies—and the only reason they haven't been touched is that their contracts haven't been in the mails long enough.

Otherwise, the list is as long as a three-bagger, comprising some 50 veterans and youngsters. The Yankees: Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio, Lefty Gomez, Charley Ruffing and Jake Powell. Chicago Cubs: Outfielders Frank Demaree, Augie Galan and Rookie Joe Marty, Pitchers Tex Carleton and Curt Davis and Infielder Billy Judges.

New York Giants: Dick Bartell, St. Louis Cardinals: Dean and Johnny Mize, first baseman. Boston Red Sox: Jimmy Foss, Lefty Grove, Wes Ferrell, Doc McNair, Babe Dahlgren, Reserve Infielder Johnny Kroner, and Pitchers Rube Walberg, Fritz Ostermueller and Jack Russell.

Pittsburgh Pirates: Paul Waner, First Baseman Gus Suhr, Pep Young and Bill Brubaker. Chicago White Sox: Zeke Bonura, Luke Appling, Rip Radcliff, Jack Hayes and Sugar Cain.

Brooklyn Dodgers: Ben Mungo and Buddy Hassett. Cleveland Indians: Johnny Allen, 20-game pitcher; Billy Sullivan, Willis Hudlin and Earl Averill.

Cincinnati Reds: Babe Herman, Ernie Lombardi, Spud Davis, Peaches Davis, Don Brennan and Benny Frey.

Washington Senators: Buck Newsom and Johnny Stone. Detroit Tigers: Rudy York, Wally Wilburn and Hank Greenberg.

ROEBUCK FACES BEN MORGAN

With his stock considerably elevated in wrestling circles because of his win over Man Mountain Dean at Los Angeles Wednesday night, Big Ben Morgan, latest mat sensation of these parts, faces a man of his own weight, height and strength Monday night at the Orange County Athletic club in Tustin. Roebuck, Oklahoma brute. They clash in a three-falls-to-a-finish battle.

L. A. Franchise in Pro Loop Unlikely

CHICAGO. (AP)—The bidding opened today for the tenth franchise in the National Professional Football league with club owners and coaches expected to choose between Cleveland and Buffalo at their annual meeting.

Los Angeles' plea probably will be tabled because of transportation problems, according to George Halas, Chicago Bears owner.

Sports Roundup

By SCOTTY RESTON (Pinch-Hitting for Brietz)

NEW YORK. (AP)—Col. Jake Ruppert foresees an attempt by Lou Gehrig to get into the Babe Ruth salary class, and he'll stop it now, even if he has to trade Gehrig. . . . One look at the Colonel while he's discussing the Yankee holdouts and you're convinced.

Before Gehrig gets $50,000, Ruppert himself will play first base. . . . Maj. Ralph Sasse calls from Memphis requesting we spike rumors he'll quit the army. . . . Okay, Major, they're spiked.

"Gunboat" Smith (remember how he socked Dempsey in Frisco) is guardian of the gallery at Madison Square Garden. . . . Which is to say, he's the bouncer. . . . During the day he's a Wall Street runner.

Eddie Brietz gets out of the hospital tomorrow, but it'll take him another week to learn to walk again.

Max Schmeling will be a free agent after the Braddock bout. . . . He'll let the boys dicker for his services if he wins. . . . So far the dickering isn't too heavy, because of that Braddock-Louis thing and because the rumor persists he'll never defend the title even if he fights and wins.

Babe Risko's father was almost 50 years old when the Babe was born. . . . Somebody told Joe Gould they'd have to sell around 50,000 low-priced seats if the Louis-Braddock fight was held in Soldier field, so he has no more objections to Comiskey park. . . . Judge Jeremiah Mahoney, A. A. U. president, and Sen. Robert F. Wagner of New York worked in a New York linen house together. . . . Mahoney was stock boy, Wagner office boy.

The bellboy said Alice Marble was at the Roosevelt. . . . So we rushed to the phone. . . . Would Miss Marble see the press? . . . Miss Marble would. . . . So the boys rushed, and rapped at the appointed door. . . . A handsome little grey-haired woman opened it. "We've come to see Alice Marble," said a reporter. . . . "Well, come in," said the lady. "I'm Miss Marble." . . . It took an embarrassed minute to explain we wanted the national tennis champion.

Chick Hafey may be coming back, but the wise boys are saying it's a mistake. . . . In a business where publicity is plenty valuable, Bing Crosby has successfully crashed in on the sports pages. . . . He owns a part of Middleweight Champion Freddie Steele and is running golf tournaments. . . . It doesn't cost him much, and he gets his name in the papers. . . . Like this, for instance.

The A's will train higher above the sea level than any other major league club, and probably will finish further below it than anybody else.

PRIZES POSTED FOR REGATTA

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—Yachting trophies valued at $25,000 in cash and much more in glory were posted today for the 11th annual national midwinter regatta, Feb. 19-22, at Los Angeles.

One of the largest awards is the Frank L. Shaw perpetual trophy for the "around Catalina island race," to be contested in conjunction with the midwinter regatta Feb. 27-28.

More than 200 boats, from the smallest skimmerettes to the largest schooners, are expected to sail in the various events staged by the Civic Regatta association under sanction of the Southern California Yachting association.

A new course has been laid out at the harbor.

CLASSY PREP CAGERS VIE AT ORANGE

Huntington Beach, Tustin Settle Class B Crown In 6:45 Preliminary

Tustin or Anaheim? . . . Respective champions of the minor and major divisions, Ralph (Bill) Cole's Tillers and Dick Glover's Colonists, both with flawless records in games that count, square off in the first of a two-out-of-three game series for the Orange Prep league basketball championship tonight.

The playoff is billed for shortly after 8 o'clock on the Orange High school floor. Admission will be 25 cents. There will be a preliminary between Tustin and Huntington Beach for the Class B title at 6:45.

There will be only one playoff game in the lightweight division, but the second contest of the varsity series will be played at Orange a week from tonight, and a third game—if necessary—at Orange following Tuesday, Feb. 23. The Class A champion will meet the San Gabriel league survivor in the first round of the C. I. F. playoffs.

Comparative records:
TUSTIN Brea-Olinda 12
S. J. Capistrano 14
Luna Beach 13
Valencia 25
ANAHEIM Huntington Beach 14
Newport Harbor 39
Garden Grove 18
Orange 88

Coach Glover, assuming charge of Anaheim after a brief siege of the flu, plans to start the combination that upset Orange, 20-18, for the major division title last week—Ray Ortiz and Chauncey Woodruff for forwards; Ted DeVellis, center; Lynn Arnett and Buddy Fassell, guards.

Tustin's Cole will lead off with Paul Francis and Vic Linker at forward, Sam Francis at center, Larry Monroy and Walt Linker at guard. The Francis regulars are brothers, who have accounted for 87 of the 135 points scored by the Tillers. Sam has caged 46, Paul 41.

There is little to choose between Anaheim and Tustin. They battled to a 24-24 deadlock in one practice session, and Anaheim scored a 25-23 victory in another warmup, with nothing at stake. Tonight, with the pressure on, the team that is "hot," in basketball language, will win.

FREMONT FIVES COP 2 GAMES

Fremont scored a double victory over Wilson in Santa Ana grammar school basketball this week, and will swing into action again next Wednesday in further playoffs. Howard Davis's seniors won, 21-4, and Frank Billia's juniors, 20-2. Lineups:

SENIORS
Fremont (21) Pos. (4) Wilson J. Billia (3) Pos. (2) Wilson Morales (4) Pos. (1) Puckering F. Orozco (2) Pos. (1) Ashford M. Garcia (10) Pos. (2) Herzig R. Reyes (2) Pos. (2) Davis J. Garcia (2) Pos. (2) Hammond
Fremont—R. Garcia, A. Garcia (2), Lucio, Wilson—Cumberworth, Winterborn and Franklin.

Wally Hally Tops Legion Fights

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Two local lightweights, Wally Hally, the one-time Salvation army kid, and George Hanford, hold the spotlight tonight on the Hollywood Legion stadium's weekly fight card. The pair, with Hally regarded as a heavier puncher, are billed for 10 rounds.

OSA JOHNSON GOING BACK TO JUNGLE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A pretty brunette with a broken leg fidgeted in a hospital here today, planning a camera invasion of the Belgian Congo—alone.

Mrs. Martin Johnson, widowed and injured by an airplane crash near Los Angeles a month ago, has not given up the work her husband shared with her for 27 years.

"I couldn't stay in this country—in civilization—for more than five or six months," she said. "I've got to go back to the jungles."

If it weren't for the broken leg, she said, she would be up on a lecture platform today, earning some of the expenses which film explorations pile up.

City Clerk Plans To Count This $96 Worth of Pennies

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—City Clerk Robert Dominguez is meticulous in money matters. When City Councilman Darwin Tate filed for re-election he hoisted two bags of pennies, 50 pounds worth, on Dominguez's desk. Tate said the bags contained $96, required for fees.

The city clerk didn't dispute. But he said he would have the pennies counted.

Toscanini Plans Radio Orchestra

MILAN, Italy. (AP)—Arthur Toscanini announced he had signed a three-year contract with David Sarnoff to organize a new philharmonic orchestra which will begin a series of broadcast American concerts in December.

FILM 'BEST' NOMINATED FOR 1936

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Movie fandom juggled the nominations of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences today and attempted to pick the winners of the 1936 merit awards which will be announced March 4.

Special committee of the academy has selected the following for voting by the membership as outstanding contributions by the industry last year:

Productions: "Anthony Adverse," "Dodsworth," "The Great Ziegfeld," "Libeled Lady," "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," "Romeo and Juliet," "San Francisco," "The Story of Louis Pasteur," "A Tale of Two Cities," and "Three Smart Girls."

Actors' performance: Gary Cooper in "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," Walter Huston in "Dodsworth," Paul Muni in "The Story of Louis Pasteur," William Powell in "My Man Godfrey," and Spencer Tracy in "San Francisco." Actresses' performance: Irene Dunne in "Theodora Goes Wild," Gladys George in "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie," Carole Lombard in "My Man Godfrey," Louise Rainer in "The Great Ziegfeld" and Norma Shearer in "Romeo and Juliet."

REALTORS NAME COMMITTEES

Committees for 1937 in the Santa Ana Realty board were announced yesterday by Earl Hawks, president.

The committees are as follows, with the chairman named first in each case:

Appraisal, Stanley Goode, Carl Mock and John C. Wallace; reception, Rex Kennedy, Van L. Brown and Roy Russell; advertising and publicity, J. Homer Anderson, Oliver Lindemeyer, who is secretary of the organization, and Ann Thompson; taxation, Croddy, C. W. Hill and Ray Goodell.

Arbitration, Charles Aubrey, F. E. McCarter and Asa Hoffman; education, Croddy, D. D. Peterson and Roland Kinsess; city affairs, Carl Mock, John D. Kelly, W. L. Copeland and F. E. Farnsworth.

History and records, Frank Pope, Everett White and Lindemeyer; membership, Marie J. Gothard, Carl Mock, Croddy and Ed Ritter; finance and audit, Mrs. Gothard, Cleve Sedoris and Ed Hensley; special constitutional committee, Croddy, A. H. Walsh and Hawks.

Scotch Concert Set for Feb. 19

Lovers of Scotch music will get a free treat at 8 p. m. Feb. 19 in the Knights of Columbus hall, it was announced today by Alex Walker, president of the Orange County Burns society.

A concert will be given in compensation for talent that did not appear at the annual dinner on Jan. 25 in honor of the anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns, famous Scotch bard. Because of flu and cold weather a number of artists were unable to take part in that program, Walker said.

"All who were at the dinner, their friends and families, and even those who had not planned to attend, will be welcome at this concert," said Walker.

Walker will be master of ceremonies. Post 42, Canadian Legion, which ordinarily would hold a social evening on Feb. 19, will dispense with its program and attend the concert, said Walker.

U. C. 'Golden Book' Is in the Mails

BERKELEY. (AP)—Copies of "The Golden Book of California," a roster of every person who ever attended the University of California, are in the mail, en route to thousands of subscribers. It took 100 persons two years to prepare the book, which lists 140,000 names.

TORRENSLAND TITLE TEST STARTED

Superior Court Suit to Determine Rights in Anaheim Land

In what may become a test of the validity of a land title under the Torrens registration system, Eliza Sidebottom yesterday started suit in superior court against John G. Lohr to determine rights to property near Anaheim.

Mrs. Sidebottom levied on the property Jan. 14, 1937, under a superior court judgment obtained in August, 1932, her complaint, prepared by Attorney R. C. Mize, asserted. The land title had been registered under the Torrens system here in 1920.

Under the regular recording system, Mrs. Sidebottom had filed a homestead declaration on the property, to hold it exempt from court seizure, the complaint stated.

As separate recording books are kept for the two systems, the homestead declaration did not appear on the perpetual Torrens title record.

Through Mize, Mrs. Sidebottom asked the court to determine whether the homestead declaration is valid. If declared valid, she asked the court to appoint appraisers to determine whether it exceeds in value the allowed exemption.

I COVER THE CAPITOL

By SENATOR HARRY C. WESTOVER

The following is one of a series of weekly articles written by Orange county's senator, Harry C. Westover, covering activities of the state legislature at Sacramento. Opinions and comment expressed in this column are not necessarily those of The Journal—Editor's note.

There are several things which I wish to do during my term in office. For some time I have thought that the elected representatives who leave their districts do not keep in as close touch with their districts as they should, and so when I was elected to the important post of state senator I determined if possible to keep in touch with the people "back home."

One of the ways of keeping in touch with my constituents has been these "Senagrams." I am convinced that the people of Orange county are reading them. During the February recess of the legislature I have welcomed every opportunity presented to contact various groups of people in the county. During the month I will probably make 50 appearances in the county. During the week of Feb. 22, I will appear on the federal forum program. On Mondays of each week, at 10:30 a. m., I speak over KVOE. In all of my public appearances I try to give my audience some idea of what is happening in Sacramento.

Not only do I wish to keep in touch with the people of Orange county, but I want them to keep in touch with me. Whenever there is any important legislation before the state senate, I welcome letters, telegrams or personal calls in regard to such legislation. I have no way of knowing what the people desire unless they tell me, and it is only by the expression of the people that I can keep my finger upon the public pulse.

There is much legislation in Sacramento which is not controversial. On the other hand there is much which is highly controversial. I have already mentioned the Huntington Beach oil pool and the sardine conservation bill. Another subject around which will be centered a hot scrap during this session of the legislature is that of revenue bonds.

During the 1935 session of the legislature a revenue bond act was passed by the legislature. However, it was vetoed by the governor.

In reality the fight on revenue bond acts is a continuation of the old fight of municipally owned public utilities. The theory behind the revenue bond acts is that municipalities, or other public subdivisions, may pledge the revenues of utilities for the purpose of obtaining money to buy out private companies or build new distribution plants.

Many cities would like to take over their public utilities. However the financing of such a venture has always been a handicap. If cities can issue bonds which are paid solely out of the revenue of public utilities, many cities or other public subdivisions may be able to take over their utilities.

There is another ray of sunshine for those cities or public subdivisions which would like to take over their public utilities. Such a move is favored by the federal administration, and it is possible that the federal government will take such revenue bonds at a low rate of interest.

The cities of Orange county have long cast envious eyes toward Anaheim. The Anaheim light and power department was established in 1895. The report of the superintendent of the light and power department of Anaheim for the year 1935-36, shows for such period, there was an operating profit of $93,000.00. Anaheim is reputed to have one of the best lighted cities of the county, and if Anaheim can make from $80,000.00 to $90,000.00 per year on its light and power system, the other cities of the county know why they can not do the same. The city of Orange is waiting for the enactment of a revenue bond bill, and will, it is said, either take over the present light and power utility or build a competitive plant.

Two revenue bond acts have been introduced in the state senate. Senator Neilson introduced senate bill No. 3, which is practically the same bill vetoed by the governor in 1935. He has attempted to eliminate from his bill those features which were found objectionable by the governor. Senate bill No. 200, is another revenue bond bill which has the support of a large group of senators. This bill is known as the Garrison bill. It is sponsored by Senator L. S. Garrison, J. S. Metzgar, Westover, Waggy, Biggar, Olson, Seawell, Williams, Hollister, Holohan, Powers, Parkman, Crittenden, Schottky, Alley, McCall, Slater, Pritchett, Phillips, Law, Keo, McCormack, Keating and McGovern. Senate bill No. 200 has sufficient indorsements so that it can be passed in the senate and probably passed over a veto of the governor if necessary.

The Democratic assembly is strong for such a revenue bond bill, and the proponents are confident, if necessary, the bill can be passed over the governor's veto in both houses of the legislature. However this does not mean there is not going to be a real fight before the bill finally passes. The public corporations are very powerful and have a strong and influential lobby. Such companies as the Pacific Gas and Electric company are not going to sit by quietly and see such a measure pass. However municipal ownership of public utilities is a real issue and one which has, at the present session of the legislature, received a great deal of support.

Next week I want to discuss the Huntington Beach oil pool situation and the week afterwards will discuss the sardine preservation measure.

TENANT FARM TOTAL HERE IS LOW

Aid Sought to Prevent Owners from Losing Their Property

Only 10 per cent of Orange county farms are operated by tenant farmers; in America as a whole the average is 50 per cent.

These figures, released by the County Farm Bureau today, presaged a drive by the California Farm Bureau federation to secure a redrafting of the federal farm tenancy act so as to include provisions helpful to the local farmer.

"The farmer in California," the Farm Bureau's statement read, "is faced with a financial problem caused by recent years of low-priced fruit."

The problem was outlined today in a letter to the Washington office of the American Farm Bureau federation:

"The condition is that these highly improved orchard lands, these growers have borrowed more money than can be refinanced under the Federal Land bank, due to its limitations. During these very serious years of low-priced fruit, these growers have been able to make a showing by which the banks have permitted them to continue on their places.

Pay 7 Per Cent

"However, they have not been able to make enough money to pay the amount of their indebtedness. These people are paying seven, and in isolated cases, higher than seven per cent interest. Their notes are usually three-year notes and are almost always delinquent because they have not reduced the obligation, so that they stay on the farm without any assurance that they can stay there for any length of time. They are maintaining the properties and in most cases finding it possible to meet the interest charges.

"If farm tenancy in California is not to increase, and it would be materially increased if these people were ejected and the banks became the owners, then some method must be devised that will refinance these people and I am writing to ask if you will take this matter up with the authors of the farm tenancy act to see if provisions can be made whereby these farms can be purchased by the administrators of the farm tenancy act and sold back under a long time repayment plan to their present owners."

Personality Sketches

Of U. S. Supreme Court Justices

(Editor's Note: The personnel of the supreme court is of major importance as a result of President Roosevelt's latest recommendation for legislation to permit him to increase its membership to 15 and to provide for retirement of justices over 70. Following is the fifth of a series of short sketches of the lives of the nine members of the court. By reading these, one may be able to predict how members of the court will vote on future legislation following the President's recent plea for the court to subscribe to his New Deal policies.)

"The courts are concerned only with the power to enact statutes, not with their wisdom. For the removal of unwise laws from the statute books, appeal lies not to the courts, but to the ballot."

That statement by Justice Harlan Fiske Stone explains why he is able to remain a Republican and still line up with the liberal minority on the supreme court. He does it not because he necessarily thinks the New Deal legislation is wise, but because he thinks it is legal.

Stone was born in New Hampshire in 1872, and grew up in Massachusetts, attending Amherst college, a friend of Calvin Coolidge.

After college, he became law partner of Herbert Satterlee, son-in-law of the elder J. P. Morgan. In 1910 he became dean of the Columbia law school. In 1925 he was appointed to the supreme bench by Coolidge, and in the following years played medicine ball daily with President Hoover.

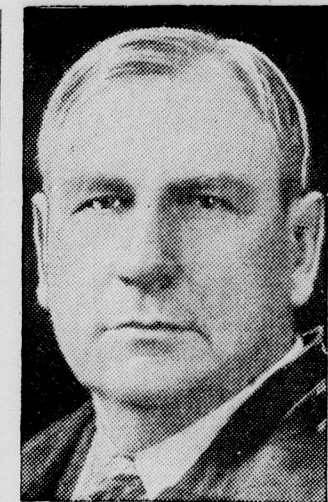

Apparently safely Republican, he astounded his friends by stringing along with the court minority in upholding New Deal legislation.

In so doing he was not being a traitor to his class. He puts a mental limit on the power of the supreme court, believing it must confine itself strictly to the law, and not kill legislation merely on grounds of public policy.

He has believed the NRA and similar Roosevelt legislation to be legal, therefore he stood with the liberal minority.

Married and with two grown sons, Stone spends his summers on an island off the Maine coast, where he owns a home.

As to future New Deal legislation—Stone may not like it, but he will be true to his beliefs, and will uphold it if he does not sincerely think it illegal.

Associate Justice HARLAN FISKE STONE of New York

NEW L. A. COURT PLAN READY

LOS ANGELES. (P)—A new judicial experiment—the pre-trial department of the Los Angeles superior court—goes into operation March 1.

Presiding Judge Fletcher Bowron said this new court division would set up a calendar by which lawyers and their clients could appear at least 10 days before trial of their cases. Limitation of issues would be considered and the number of witnesses needed would be decided, thereby speeding up the actual trial.

Judge Bowron expressed hope the pre-trial meetings would result in more out-of-court settlements and save litigants and taxpayers from unnecessary expense.

APPOINTMENT IS MADE BY GOVERNOR

A. B. Miller, Fontana, Returned as Head Of Society

Gov. Frank Merriam yesterday reappointed D. Eymann Huff of Orange as a director of the State Agricultural society. It is this organization which functions in connection with the state fair.

At the same time the governor reappointed A. B. Miller, of Fontana, as president of the society. This automatically makes him president of the state fair board. Other directors named with Huff are Horace E. Thomas, Marysville, and John M. Perry, Stockton.

Charles W. Paine was named as a new director of the society to succeed John G. Morley, San Diego.

The governor also reappointed as members of the state board of agriculture Merritt H. Adamson, Los Angeles, and R. V. Garrod, Saratoga.

For one year terms on the board, as representatives of the Los Angeles and Stockton fairs, the governor named W. A. Kennedy and Charles Lang, respectively.

Hatfield to Run For Governor

SACRAMENTO. (P)—Secy. of State Jordan has been asked by Dr. George S. Holbrook, San Francisco physician, to reserve the title "Hatfield for Governor Club."

The brief communication informed Jordan a club was being formed to support the lieutenant governor for the governorship and asked no other organization be permitted to incorporate the title until application for it could be made by Dr. Holbrook.

Lions Honor Charter Members and Wives at Their Fifteenth Birthday Dinner

Country Club Is Setting Of Party

Harry Hanson Serves as Toastmaster of Evening

It was with a feeling of pride and pleasure that the 11 charter members of the Lions club now living in Santa Ana presided as honored guests at a banquet held last night at the Santa Ana Country club, for nearly 100 couples were gathered there as members and guests to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of the club's organization.

Among these were many who had belonged nearly as long as the founders, and others whose membership was only recent, but mingled together in a gay spirit of informality and friendship.

Rolla Hays, jr., present executive of the club, welcomed the group and thereupon turned his gavel over to Harry Hanson, one of the original members, who introduced the other 10 honored guests and their wives, and presented the latter with lovely little onyx and enamel compacts, upon which were engraved the crest of the Lions, and the recipients' first names.

Charter members were seated at the president's table, which, like the others surrounding it, was decorated with pots of brightly-colored artificial flowers. These attractive decorations were later presented to the other ladies as souvenirs of the evening.

After the introduction of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Hillyard, Dr. and Mrs. Elliott Rowland, the Rev. and Mrs. Perry F. Schrock, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tidball, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Willets, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Winbigger, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Abbey and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spicer, Lyle Anderson took charge of the program.

He presented a very entertaining group of vaudeville entertainers, including a harmony trio, tap dancers, roller skaters, an athletic exhibition act and a ballroom dancing number.

At the conclusion of this colorful show, the group divided, some spending the remainder of the evening at cards, and others dancing to the orchestra music that had been heard at intervals throughout dinner.

Lyle Anderson acted as general chairman, and was assisted by Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Rolla Hays, jr., Mrs. Frank Harwood, Mrs. Lew Blodgett, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gould, with 25 couples in the receiving line to welcome members and their guests.

Another nephew, Dr. George Reeves, who finished his service as intern at the Los Angeles general hospital last June, is now in Juneau, having gone north to take over the practice of Dr. Vance, his uncle, when the latter departed for a long vacation in California and other points.

FAMILY REUNION PLANNED FOR VALENTINE DAY

Dr. Mabel Vance Tremain of 439 Amerige street, Fullerton, is planning a family reunion and dinner on St. Valentine's Day to honor guests from Juneau, Alaska, Dr. and Mrs. Howe Vance.

She plans Valentine decorations for her home and her dinner table, choosing a red flower centerpiece for the latter, with matching tapers at either side and with Valentine place cards and red, heart-shaped nut cups at the places.

Those invited for the one o'clock turkey dinner, besides the guests of honor, are Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Vance and Dr. and Mrs. Heber Vance, all of Ontario; Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Vance of Los Angeles; the hostess' mother, Mrs. T. Vance, and her sister, Mrs. Joy Wakefield, of Santa Ana, and her nephew, Jack Reeves, who makes his home with her.

Another nephew, Dr. George Reeves, who finished his service as intern at the Los Angeles general hospital last June, is now in Juneau, having gone north to take over the practice of Dr. Vance, his uncle, when the latter departed for a long vacation in California and other points.

ROYAL NEIGHBOR CIRCLE WILL BE COUNTY HOST

Magnolia Circle of Royal Neighbors of America initiated two new members, C. H. Carney and Mrs. Anna Sward, when it met Monday night in the M. W. A. hall, with J. C. Smith presiding, and also made plans for the March 22 meeting, when it would entertain the county R. N. A. circles in the local hall.

Continuing the imaginary trips to different countries, which the county circles are featuring this year, Santa Ana circle will represent Ireland. Committees for that night are Mrs. E. U. Farmer, Mrs. James Blackwell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson, Mrs. Harry Fink, Mrs. Goldie Corbett and Mrs. John Sadler. A brief history of Ireland will be given, with Mrs. Herbert Birt as narrator. Mrs. Walter Dunlap will have charge of decorations.

Japan will be the destination of the county circles when they meet Feb. 23 in Fullerton.

Royal Neighbors are planning to attend the Red Cross bazaar being conducted in the Y. W. C. A. every Friday at 9 a. m. Mrs. John Buckwalter received the gift of the evening Monday night, and Mrs. A. C. Keck and Mrs. Blackwell were the committee for the next meeting, on Feb. 22. Mrs. Laub decorated the dining-room in the Valentine motif for refreshments after the meeting, and Mrs. Blackwell and Mrs. Smith decked the hall with bunting and flags. The committee for the February sessions of Magnolia circle are the Mesdames Chester Cross, Ruth Broderick, Dean Laub, Miss Agnes Brady, Dean Laub and Ashley Knowlton.

DORIS WELLS MISSION GROUP ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Edward Burns of 1516 North Broadway was hostess to the Doris Wells foreign missionary society of the First Methodist church Tuesday evening.

Miss Keziah Hay, the president, was welcomed back after an absence and took charge of the business session. Mrs. Don Wellington, the vice-president, was in charge of the program, reading an article on "Africa," and Miss Ethel Coffman reading poems by American negroes.

Later the hostess served light refreshments to the following: Mrs. Jessie Steward of Anaheim, Miss Alma Steward and her guest, Mrs. A. Hudson, Misses Pearl Kimball, Ethel Coffman, Olive and Bertha Briney, Keziah Hay, and Beulah Hay, Mrs. Wellington, and the hostess.

Needlework Club Is Feted

Mrs. F. W. Wiesseman was hostess to her needlework club today, the members gathering for their usual afternoon of sewing and pleasant chat in her home at 527 West Nineteenth street and at four o'clock finding their places around a beautifully appointed table in the dining room.

Centering the pretty table, across which wide red satin ribbons extended from corner to corner, was a circular blue mirror surrounded by a white pottery ring filled with red carnations. White tapers in matching pottery holders flanked either side of this lovely arrangement.

At each place, a tiny American flag flew its colors above a marshall base which stood on a tiny dolly of red cellophane.

Early American chinaware of the George Washington era further carried out the patriotic motif, and little heart-shaped nut cups added to the pretty effect.

Members enjoying the delightful day in the Wiesseman home were the Mesdames Oliver Halsell, J. Dick Wilson, E. B. Sprague, T. E. Stephenson, Alex Brownridge, W. B. Williams, L. A. West, C. F. Skirvin, Helen Heil, O. H. Barr, H. J. Forgy, J. H. Metzgar, Harry Spencer, and the hostess.

NEWPORT EBELL TAKES IN NEW MEMBERS

The welcoming of 14 new members to the Newport Beach Ebell club was the occasion of a pleasant luncheon meeting recently, when more than seventy members and their friends gathered in the clubrooms.

Small tables were arranged in foursomes for old members and their guests, while the new members, the president, and the membership chairman were seated at one long table decorated in Valentine fashion, with red candles and white blossoms, and corsages for the newcomers. These included the Mesdames E. L. Boyd, Wilhelmina McKay, John M. Sadler, Helen S. Moeller, Winifred M. Young, Gordon B. Findlay, O. M. Campbell, O. B. Addison, Carmelita Vincent, Donald McCallum, Howard W. Seager, C. O. Reeder, John Siegel, and Miss Margaret L. Schlarke.

An entertaining program concluded the afternoon, with Mrs. Lyle Anderson, Mrs. John Robert Eiles, and Mrs. Harold Moomaw, Mrs. O. I. Northrop and Mrs. O. W. Householder were special guests, while members attending included Mrs. Aubrey Glines, Mrs. James Merigold, Mrs. Chester Horton, Mrs. M. K. Tedstrom, Mrs. R. C. Harris, Mrs. John Elbersole, and Mrs. George Peterson.

WHITTIER CLUB HAS LUNCHEON IN SANTA ANA

Mrs. Walter Spicer entertained members of the Whittier club yesterday when she presided at a prettily appointed luncheon at Daniger's tearoom, these friends who have met together every three weeks for several years finding enjoyment and pleasure in the delightful luncheon hour and in the hours of bridge following at the Spicer home on Greenleaf.

Color of the red candles and flowers at the tearoom were repeated in the bowls of anemone and the Valentine tapers used as appointments in the home.

Participating in the gathering were Mrs. Leon Pellessier of Chino, Mrs. William Lester of Balboa Island, and the Mesdames Manning Simon, Carson Albright, Robert Carvey, Earl Rees, and Roy Cole, all of Whittier, where Mrs. Spicer formerly resided.

VALENTINE IS CLUB MOTIF

Mrs. John Taylor entertained her little bridge club Wednesday night, taking the group out to the home of friends in Orange for an evening of cards and a dainty refreshment course.

Red and white was the color scheme selected by the hostess for her tables, and her prize for high score, won by Miss Norma Wilson, was a pretty petit point guest towel.

Enjoying the evening with Mrs. Taylor were Mrs. R. U. Smith, Mrs. Douglas Ferry, and the Misses Betty and Lucille Howell, Erlene Farmer, and Norma Wilson, members of the club, and Mrs. Wayne Bartholomew, a substitute guest. Mrs. Perry will be hostess at the next meeting.

CALUMPIT GROUP SEWS AT HOME

Mrs. Mable Sand, Mrs. Effie Hawley, Mrs. Elvira Kurtz and Mrs. Anna Patmor formed a gracious hostess group when they entertained the sewing circle of Calumpit auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, this week at the former's pretty home on Newport Road.

Those gathering for the day of sewing were the Mesdames Jean Tantlinger, Luella Randall, Edna Hannah, Bertha Helmer, Dena Isabell, Bertha Allen, Grace Deck, Ruth Hess, and Lulu Chaltain.

Mrs. Haddon Luncheon Hostess

Valentines of different nations marked places at the pretty luncheon tables at which Mrs. Sarah Johnston Haddon presided as hostess yesterday in her home at 202½ South Syracuse.

Carnations and tapers in the same Valentine red offered pretty contrast to the silver holders and the other appointments at the tables.

This was the second party of the series of three which Mrs. Haddon is giving this week, and her guest list for yesterday was as follows:

Mrs. Maurice Yarnell, Mrs. H. T. Dunning, Mrs. L. G. Swales, Mrs. Howard Timmons, Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. B. J. MacMullen, Mrs. E. D. White, Mrs. Lloyd Chenoweth, Mrs. Wade Warner, Mrs. Lyman Farwell, Mrs. Howard Rapp, Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mrs. Rowland P. Yeagle, Mrs. George Baker, Mrs. H. B. Van Dien, Mrs. Mortimer Plumb, Mrs. Don Andrews, and three from Los Angeles, Mrs. E. B. Gregory and Mrs. Will Comstock, who make their home in that city, and Mrs. Ethel Hayes who is a winter visitor there from Philadelphia.

Dainty little compacts were presented as prizes in the afternoon's contract games, going to high score holder at each table. The four winners were Mrs. Yeagle, Mrs. Swales, Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. Hayes.

MOTHERS HEAR DR. DAVIS TALK

Mothers of young children who attended Child Study section's meeting this week at the Ebell clubhouse were most interested in Dr. Stella Davis' talk on "Negativism."

"Negativism is a natural physiological thing in development through which every average child passes, for a shorter or longer time, during the second, third, and fourth years," Dr. Davis said. "The underlying cause of behavior is the child's struggling to become a personality," she continued. "It's this volition which brings him into direct conflict with adults."

She declared that the management of negativism presupposes habit regularity, sympathetic understanding, pre-school age, psychology, and genuine respect for the child as a personality.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Thoburn White, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. Robert Eiles, and Mrs. Harold Moomaw. Mrs. O. I. Northrop and Mrs. O. W. Householder were special guests, while members attending included Mrs. Aubrey Glines, Mrs. James Merigold, Mrs. Chester Horton, Mrs. M. K. Tedstrom, Mrs. R. C. Harris, Mrs. John Elbersole, and Mrs. George Peterson.

FIFTY-FIFTIANS TO DANCE AT HACIENDA

Under leadership of the president, Lawrence Mitchell, members of the Fifty-Fifty club are making plans for a lovely winter dance on Saturday evening, February 27, at the Hacienda Country club.

Members may invite guests to this dance, it is announced by the secretary, Bill Queale, with whom reservations are to be made as early as possible. Reservations accompanied by checks may be mailed to him at 245 West Center street, Anaheim.

Committee for the evening is William Grafton, Irving Wardman, and Ewald Lemcke, and one of their requests is cooperation of the members in getting to the dinner on time. The dinner hour is 8 o'clock.

BIRTHDAY PARTY IS HAPPY SURPRISE

After closing hours Wednesday night, the girls of Daniger's tearoom gathered for a little surprise birthday party given by Miss Mabel Anderson, Miss Marianna Jackson, and Mrs. Louise Stewart in honor of Miss Martha Johnston.

Gifts were presented to the honor guest and a birthday cake and refreshments were served to the group, who included Marion Dimmock, Alberta Timm, Nettie Detwiler, Bernice Dittborn, and Irene Daniger, and the guest of honor and three hostesses.

MARY STODDARD

Young Correspondent Seems to Have Movie-Scenario Idea of Life

By MARY STODDARD

And here's an impetuous young lady who gives still another angle to Sally's problem. She not only thought my advice too harsh, but thinks, undoubtedly, that I am a decrepit old fogey who ought to be put behind a frame. Here is her sizzling letter: Dear Miss Stoddard: Boy! Your advice to "Sally" certainly was a powerful speech, wasn't it? I think you're altogether too harsh on we young'uns "who aren't yet dry behind the ears." Personally I think you don't give girls in their teens credit for very much sense.

We all know there are girls who are a little rat-tat-brained and would get some sort of "kick" out of being "the other woman," but in case you don't know it, there have been girls who didn't feel very good over the fact that they had fallen in love with a married man. A lot of us believe in doing unto others as we would have them do unto us.

I know, Miss Stoddard, that those cutting words you threw in "Sally's" face would do very nicely for some women. But "Sally" didn't sound like such a wicked person to me.

Don't you ever give anyone the benefit of the doubt? I don't think so!

Well, anyhow, if "Sally" and "Jim" really love each other, they'll get married some day—and be happy, too. Let's just hope that "Jim's" wife doesn't love him too much and that she, too, will marry again and find a man who will be good and kind to "Jim's" little boy. It's been done, you know!

Often times a woman's second husband has more than taken the place of the first. And oftentimes "stepdaddies" are fine men, who can love their little adopted son or daughter as much as one of their own flesh and blood.

I, too, am for marriages that endure "till death do they part," and of course it is nice to see little boys and girls with their very own mommies and daddies. But girls like "Sally" have found happiness and homes have been broken and new happiness found!

So please, Miss Stoddard, don't hand out the same old line to all youngsters. Give them credit for a little common sense and good judgment.

How's about it? Sincerely, J. G.

P. S.: I hope you can take it, too! J. G.

Is Life a Scenario?
Thanks, J. G., for at least giving me "the benefit of a doubt." You bet I can take it.

You've put yourself in "Sally's" boots in a right smart manner. Now suppose you climb into the shoes of the young wife and mother at home. I wonder if you'd still "take it" so sportingly? You prate about "homes being broken up and new loves and happiness found," and in the same breath hold out the good old-fash-

Friends Hear Wedding Plans

Plans for her Valentine's Day wedding, announced to fellow members of the Jaycee Spinster club on Tuesday night, were told to other friends of Miss Katherine McDermott last night when Miss Ruth Dunlap, who has been one of her closest friends since childhood, entertained for her at a pretty Valentine party at her home at 2143 North Main street.

Hollywood bridge formed the diversion of the evening, and after the games the three tables were cleared and spread with dainty linens for a delicious refreshment course. Each was centered with a tall red taper in a red cellophane holder, and little red and white cups filled with heart candies inscribed with Valentine verses marked the places of the guests.

Valentines at the places carried inside the fold the names of the bride-to-be and her fiancé, Billy Heger, and the date, February 14, when they will exchange their vows in a quiet home ceremony.

Neapolitan jello and little white cakes were served to the group, and a large candy heart bearing heart-felt wishes was presented as a Valentine gift to the honored guest.

Invited to honor the bride-to-be were the Misses Betty Hill, Bernadine Helberg, Edith Wilde, Betty Goode, Nellie Fickas, Marjorie Matthews, Jean Mubar, Marjorie Buttorf, Jeanne House, Alberta Hoover, and Josephine Owen.

Rev. Mr. William J. Hatter, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Messiah, gave an account of the recent diocesan convention which he attended in Los Angeles when he spoke to the Women's Auxiliary of his church Wednesday afternoon.

The auxiliary met in the morning and had luncheon at noon, members bringing their own sandwiches and Mrs. Kenneth Dawson, Mrs. Harry Spencer, and Miss Susan Cloyes serving tea and coffee. Mrs. E. F. Mathews presided in the absence of Miss Minnie Besser.

Proper Use Of Tonic Is Important

By JACQUELINE HUNT

Next to a good skin, it is silky, attractive, healthy hair that counts most for beauty.

Most heads of hair can stand some reconditioning treatments right now. Decide whether your hair is dry, oily or troubled with dandruff and buy a tonic especially prepared for correcting the condition. There are also pomades for the dry, scaly scalp and for correcting brittle hair and split ends.

Here is the way to use tonic: Part your hair into sections, one at a time, to expose the scalp. Dip small pieces of absorbent cotton in the tonic and rub it on the scalp along the partings. Begin at the crown of the head, and take a fresh piece of cotton after you have swabbed a few of the partings.

When the entire scalp has been saturated with the tonic, go over the head with the fingertips several times to distribute the tonic evenly and to exercise the scalp. Now take the hair, a small portion at a time, pulling the scalp upwards firmly but gently. Let the scalp relax, then repeat the pull. Go over the entire head in this fashion. It is grand for stimulating the scalp.

Rub the hair with a clean towel to remove any excess tonic and wait a few minutes for it to dry thoroughly, then brush vigorously. Remember that brushing does the same for your scalp and hair that massage does for your skin—tones it and arouses the circulation.

S. E. A. WOMEN HAVE BRIDGE AFTERNOON

Members of the S. E. A. Woman's club of Orange county were entertained Wednesday at the attractive home of Mrs. H. S. Wright, 2442 Heliotrope Drive, Mrs. Irene Tramel, Mrs. J. D. Blower, and Mrs. K. H. Stewart acting as co-hostesses with Mrs. Wright for the afternoon.

Election of officers was the chief piece of business, Mrs. M. W. Ball being chosen new chairman of the group, with Mrs. K. P. Kilbourn as assistant chairman, Mrs. Tramel secretary, Mrs. Mabel Davidson treasurer, and Mrs. E. A. B. Smith, advisor to the committee.

Bridge took up the remainder of the afternoon, serving of refreshments preceding the playing and prizes at the close going to Mrs. E. A. B. Smith, high; Mrs. F. N. Randall, the traveling prize, and Mrs. Frank Campbell, low. Valentine appointments graced the bridge and the refreshment tables.

Mrs. Helen Sackerson will entertain the club next at her home at 701 Van Ness on March 10.

SCHOOL LIBRARY HEADS MEET FOR DINNER

School librarians of Orange county held an informal dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the Doris-Kathryn tea shop, finding places at one table bright with berries, candles, and place cards all in the Valentine colors.

Problems of school libraries were discussed by the group, who included Miss Lillian Dickinson and Miss Muriel Anderson of the Santa Ana Junior college; Mrs. E. M. Sundquist and Miss Ruth Bradley of Polytechnic high school, Santa Ana; Mrs. Margaret Spaulding and Miss Lucille Holman of Orange, Miss Edith Hubbard and Miss Lea Hood of Huntington Beach, Miss Emma Field and Mrs. Frances Conkey of Tustin, and Miss Ruth Patterson of Newport Harbor high school.

Regal Lily Makes Radiant Quilt

PATTERN 5717

Regal Lily—though this quilt has all the dignity and beauty of the glorious lily whose name it bears, yet you will find it a simple task to piece the 10-inch block. Use a colored background and let your flower be white or a white background with a colored flower; the leaves can be green or brown. Its beauty will keep you fascinated to the very "last stitch." In pattern 5717 you will find the Block Chart, an illustration of the finished block in actual size, showing contrasting fabrics; accurately drawn pattern pieces; an illustration of the entire quilt; three color schemes; step-by-step directions for making the quilt, and exact yardage requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

ALTRUSANS IN COURTESY FOR PRESIDENT

Miss Helen Gallagher was hostess to the Altrusa club in her home last evening, entertaining the members at a buckwheat pancake supper with sausages and plenty of maple syrup to go with the delicious hot cakes.

She seated her guests at one large table with a bowl of white narcissus in the center flanked on either side by a red taper.

This was a special occasion for this purely business group, celebrating the birthday anniversary of their president, Mrs. Cora Prather, who was surprised when the hostess set before her a lovely white birthday cake lighted with red candles. The surprise was doubled for the other members when it was revealed that it was also the birthday of the hostess.

The members presented the honored guest with a book for travel notes, to be used on her anticipated trip next June to Mexico City to attend the Altrusa convention.

Present at last night's affair were Miss Prather, Mrs. Elizabeth Moore and her sister, Mrs. H. H. Weeks, Dewey Neumeyer, Grace Lancing, Mary Howard, Irene McPaul, and the hostess.

SOCIAL EVENING FOR CALUMPITS

Calumpit camp and auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans held a joint social meeting Tuesday in the Knights of Columbus hall, enjoying bridge and five hundred for several hours and refreshments at the close.

Mrs. H. Helmer, Mrs. C. Raegan, and Mrs. J. Isabel, members of the finance committee, served the refreshments.

FAMILY GATHERS ON NATAL DAY

A little family dinner party will celebrate Dr. V. A. Rossiter's birthday anniversary this evening at his home, 2433 Heliotrope Drive.

Gathered around the table will be Dr. and Mrs. Rossiter, their sons, Larry and Paul, their daughter, Mrs. Francis Bice of Banning, and Mrs. Rossiter's sister, Miss Helen Gorman.

TOROSAS HAVE VISIT FROM DEPUTY

Miss Nora Edwards, deputy, paid her official visit to Torosa Rebekahs this week, she and her marshal, Mrs. Eva Harris, being honored at the regular meeting presided over by Noble Grand Irene Lancaster.

Three visitors were introduced: Mrs. Lillie Smith and Mrs. Helen Mortenson of Iowa, and Mrs. Allie Tolhurst of Detroit.

After the business session, Miss Edwards, Mrs. Harris, and the visitors were called on for short talks, and Mrs. Leota Allen presented gifts from the lodge to the deputy and marshal.

Mrs. Martha Vandewalker was chairman for the evening, which concluded with bridge and 500, prizes going to Mrs. Gladys McDonald, high, and Mrs. Jean Tremble, low, in bridge, and Mrs. Nannie Myers, high in the other game.

Mrs. Rosa Bauers and her committee were in charge in the banquet room which was decked with red hearts and cupid, and served cookie hearts and coffee at the end of the evening.

ARMESIS CLUB PLANS PARTY FOR HUSBANDS

Armesia club members enjoyed a delightful get-together on Wednesday evening when they met at the home of Mrs. Glenn Lyan on West Camille street for bridge.

Mrs. Della Maude Ryan won high honors in the card games and Mrs. Florence Wright, low.

After bridge, the hostess served refreshments, drawing the four small tables together to form one large one which she centered with a bowl of narcissus. The Valentine motif appeared in the tallies.

Plans were made to entertain the husbands at a turkey dinner on the evening of March 10, at 6:30 o'clock, in the M. W. A. hall. The husbands, who will have their regular meeting after the dinner, and the women will have their usual evening of bridge.

Present Wednesday night at the Lyan home were the Mesdames: Thelda Graham, Irene Mitchell, Agnes Lindig, Mildred Peedy, Bessie McWilliams, Rose Smith, Florence Wright, Don Royer, Jane Morse, Clarabelle Rousseau, Polly Cornett of Huntington Beach, and Edith Wilson of Long Beach, and the hostess.

SORORITY WILL GIVE MUSICAL FASHION TEA

Feminine fancy will be more than pleased with the variety of entertainment promised at an event to occur February twenty-seventh under the auspices of Beta Sigma Phi literary society.

A fashion review, a musical, and a tea will all be combined at Designer's within the hours of from three to five o'clock that afternoon, and the proceeds are to go to a pet charity of the organization.

Miss Mary Ford is general chairman of the affair, with her sub-committee heads, consisting of Miss Jean Enna, tickets; Miss Lena May Wilsey, art; Miss Delphina Lopez, music; and Marie LeBrucherie, Lucie McDermott, Elsie Siemsen, and Lillian McDonald, general committee.

DRILL TEAM AT LORD HOME

Mrs. T. E. Lord received a happy surprise Tuesday night when, presiding as hostess to the drill team of the Homesteaders' lodge in her home at 416 Cypress street, her guests presented her with a lovely pottery coffee service as a birthday gift.

Jack Gish, president of the group, presided over a short business meeting, after which a tamale pie supper was served at small tables.

The team will meet next with Mr. and Mrs. George Randall on East First street.

Present Tuesday night were Capt. Laird Crane and Mrs. Crane, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Coomes, Mr. and Mrs. George Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gish, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Barker, and Mr. and Mrs. Lord, and four younger members of their families, Kitty Lou and Coleen Randall, and Aileen and Betty Jane Lord. Mrs. Lydia Phipps, mother of the drill team, was unable to attend.

MRS. COLEMAN IS SHOWER HONOREE

Miniature baby carriages in pink and blue, filled with tiny candies were the favors at a party given Wednesday evening by Mrs. Floyd Pickell, 334 Normandy place. Carrying out the pastel theme suggested by the layette shower planned for Mrs. Coleman, the hostess used delicate spring flowers and dainty pink and blue luncheon cloths. Napkins were large crepe paper bibs pinned around each guest's neck.

After a session of bridge pretty prizes were won by Mrs. Charles McDowell, high, Mrs. Walter Coleman, second, and Mrs. Z. Landes, consolation, with a bevy of lovely gifts presented to Mrs. Coleman.

Guests were Mrs. Ralph Adams, Mrs. Robert Graham, Mrs. Roy Wilson, Mignonne Wilson, Mrs. Gladys Pickett, Mrs. Don Harris, Louise Harris, Mrs. Charles McDowell, Mrs. Z. Landes, and Mrs. L. G. Whalley of Anaheim.

Garden Secrets

By Willis Cadwallader of Blanding Nurseries

"You violets that first appear, By your pure purple mantles known, Like the proud virgins of the year, As if the spring were all your own."

What flower has a longer season than our present well-developed hybrid tea rose?

There are a great many varieties of wild roses found in all parts of the world. We owe to England and France the credit for the development of our present popular rose, the hybrid tea rose.

Our present day rose dates back to about 1187 when a Saladin recovered Jerusalem from the Crusaders. He is reported to have imported 500 camel loads of roses from Damascus for the purification of the mosque of Omar after it had been used as a Christian church by the infidels. This Damascus rose is noted for its fragrance and perfume.

The development of the hybrid perpetual rose came about through the cross-fertilizing of the Damascus rose and a hybrid of the China rose, Rosa Indica.

The hybrid perpetual rose is a sturdy grower and makes a desirable shrub. The development of this hybrid has resulted in a longer blooming season than the Damascus rose, and a better quality of flower, and carried over the fragrance that was so noted in the parent.

In the year 1810, Rosa Indica Oederata was introduced into England from China, and later into France where, in 1830, the real development of the tea-scented rose began. This was done by crossing the bluish tea-scented rose with the yellow tea-scented rose. It was about twenty years until the tea roses were recognized by the public.

Our Present Day Rose

The hybrid tea rose is a cross between varieties of the tea-scented kind and the hybrid perpetual. This cross gave a greater activity of growth and freedom of flowering, but the sweet perfume of the Damascus rose has been lost. Work on the hybrid tea rose began in the early '70s, but it wasn't until about 1890 that the hybrid tea rose was recognized as a distinct class.

Excluding fragrance, in this group of roses we have almost every other desirable quality in the flower. It is as nearly an ever-bloomer as has yet been produced in the plant kingdom. It is desirable from the florist's standpoint as an exhibition rose.

A list of the best hybrid tea roses now to be found in the nursery was printed in last Friday's Journal.

Lathrop Junior High News

At the last meeting of the Junior Literary club, four new members were admitted, Beverly Echles, Frances White, Andronick Pappas and Eleanor Lawrence. Election of new officers for the semester resulted in the following list: president, Ruth Ames; vice president, Willard Kettler; secretary, treasurer, Jeanne Lawrence; sergeant-at-arms, Robert Porter, and reporter, Paul Witmer. All members of the club are looking forward to the Valentine party to be Friday noon in the library.

Miss Pearl Nicholson's class has also elected new officers who are: president, Rose Ann Griggs; vice president, Bill Jones; secretary, Mary Graupensperger; treasurer, Thomas Shoen; sergeant-at-arms, Alfred Culver; reporter, Eugene Struck; girls' athletic manager, Anna Jane Parler; boys' athletic manager, Don Rathbone; filing clerk, Bruce Carnahan; messenger, Frances Glover; assistant messenger, Doris Marquez and room monitor, Ann Louise Patton. Those who will serve as committee chairman for this room are Bonnie Struthers, flowers; Jack Lewis, bulletin board; Grove Bancroft, recreational; assistant recreational, Bob Jones; assembly seating, Clem Knox; assistant assembly seating, Frank Hunt.

Seventh grade boys who are taking electric shop, from Mr. Rowley, report that they are learning to solder, rivet and lock a joint.

Due to the recent unfavorable weather, girls' speedball games have been postponed, Miss Hazel Thrasher reports. Weather permitting, the regular schedules will be played after school in two weeks.

The following captains for girls' P. E. classes have been chosen: seventh grade, Rose Ann Griggs and Violet Walker; eighth and ninth grades, Beverly Short and Ruth Ames and ninth grade, Irma Jean May and Theodora Pappas. Other captains for eighth and ninth grades are Salma Masuda, Phyllis Adams, Wynette Todd, Emory Low Brooks, Leone Lindgard, Eleanor Stevenson and Bonnie Lee Martin.

Members of the Lathrop seventh grade were glad to welcome back to school a former student, Seijie Ogata. Seijie, with his parents, left last fall for Japan to visit his grandmother and grandfather. He traveled on to Asam Maru to Yokohama. From there he went to Tokyo and to Kumamoto, where his grandparents are living. Seijie reports that he and his parents encountered stormy conditions on the trip. However, he was a pretty good sailor and enjoyed being on the water 15 days. He prefers to live in the United States of America, he says. Lathrop students are enjoying Seijie's experiences very much.

Correlating with their study of nature poems and stories, Mrs. Marguerite Hill's low seven literature class has been making a class notebook in which original poems, stories and sketches will appear.

"The coming track season will be one of the biggest yet," says Mr. Archer, Lathrop's coach. Results of Tuesday's noon games were turned in as follows: Miss Cornell's class won over Miss Hazel Thrasher's class with a score of 4-14. A score of 17-16 gave Mrs. Wolf's class the lead over Miss Henderson's, while Mrs. Crumrine's and Miss Hart's classes topped scores over Miss Nicholson's and Miss Gordon's by 8-2 and 6-2. Miss Blythe's class won 16-0 over Mr. Orr's. Miss Adam's over Mr. Scott's class with a score of 9-5; Miss Biggen's over Mrs. Hill's class with 9-7, and Miss Tummond's class over Mrs. Beeson's with a score of 6-3.

Spanish Eggs Good for Lent Season

By JUDITH WILSON

Yesterday we talked about the adaptability of rice, and its inexpensiveness. Here is a grand recipe, I think. It's particularly nice now that eggs are cheap again.

Eggs Caliente

These are especially good for a Sunday morning "brunch" or for luncheon. First make this sauce and keep hot in a double boiler: Saute 1 medium-sized onion sliced, 1 small green pepper, chopped and 2 slices bacon, diced until the bacon is light brown, and the onion and pepper soft. Add 1 tablespoon flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup sliced canned or sauteed mushrooms, 1/2 teaspoon sugar and 2 cups canned tomatoes. Simmer slowly for 10 minutes.

Spread 2 cups cooked rice out on a board or in a pan 1-inch thick and cut into rounds with a biscuit cutter. Lay these on a greased baking sheet, dot liberally with butter and put into a hot oven to brown lightly.

Next prepare your eggs. Beat 4 eggs in a bowl and add 6 tablespoons milk. Melt 4 tablespoons butter in a saucepan and add the following seasonings: 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Pour in the eggs and cook, stirring constantly until creamy and done. Arrange on the browned rice patties and pour the sauce over the egg mixture.

elect: Jerry Buzick, president, Leonard Wilbur, vice president, and Richard Planchon, secretary. Plans have been made for an authority to speak to the boys on cooking, and a contest will take place in the near future. The boys say actual cooking will occupy most of the time of the class. These boys have the privilege of taking work in this class: Somers Beauchamp, Jerry Buzick, Eugene Ferguson, Robert Gill, Junior Hadley, Don Hart, Harold Herren, Doran Kyle, Clarence Milton, La Verne Morrison, Malcolm Nelson, Jack Planchon, Richard Planchon, Glen Rush, Dawson Snyder, De Witt Springer, Orval Tatum, Vayle Taylor, Jimmy Valentine, Leonard Wilbur and Bruce Yarbrough.

These officers were chosen at the Puppets' first meeting: Ruth Murphy, president; Marguerite Alvord, vice president; David Flaherty, secretary-treasurer and Pat Pinnell, reporter.

Plans to be given by this organization are: "Hundred Years for a Day," in which most of the scenes take place under the sea, and "Columbus," which takes place in the court of Queen Isabella and King Ferdinand of Spain.

Enjoy Pleasure of Easy-to-Grow Plants

Like a burst of summer sunshine is the clivia miniata whose bell-like orange blossoms send a tropical note in mid-winter windows.

New among house-plants, clivia thrives under poorer conditions than many of the old favorites. Set it in a sunny or light sunless window where the temperature doesn't fall below 40 degrees.

In mid-winter when florists carry the clivia or will order one for you, its gorgeous blooms appear and last two months. A resting season of subdued light and little water follows and behold! the miracle's repeated next winter.

Now fill that bracket holder with English ivy. It grows beautifully in water. Wash leaves weekly. Add fresh water as needed.

Our 32-page booklet suggests other vines to grow in water. Valuable tips on watering, fertilizing, repotting plants to make window gardening a winter joy.

Send 10c for your copy of Making Plants and Flowers Grow Indoors to The Journal, Home Service, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your Name, Address, and the Name of booklet.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

OH, CAPT. BILL BROWN!
You're breaking my heart! That guy, who ran a boat yard at Newport not so long ago, and is still one of the harbor chamber of commerce leaders, wrote me a letter, and he's upset me for days and days. The scoundrel!

This, incidentally, isn't an ordinary letter. "S different! Written in San Gabriel Bay, Baja California, and mailed at La Paz. A few weeks ago Capt. Bill promised he'd keep us in touch with his expedition into the gulf, and he's kept his promise. Via Mexican air mail, for which a stamp seems to cost 40 cents!

From here on, I'll let Capt. Bill speak for himself:

"Dear Brick: Well, here we are in San Gabriel Bay, one of the most delightful spots in the whole of Lower California. We have just put all of our boats over—four in all—and some of our party are out fishing and some are over on the beach swimming on the whitest sand beach I ever saw, so this was my opportunity to write you these few lines about our trip, as we are going to La Paz tomorrow where I will have a chance to send mail.

"Well, you know we left the California Yacht club on Friday, Jan. 29, on the good ship Valero II. She is a splendid sea boat and very comfortable, and we got into warmer weather just as we passed Cerros Islands, although it was quite choppy and the sky was overcast.

"We stopped in at Port San Bartolome, otherwise known as 'Turtle Bay,' to break the monotony and rest the crew overnight. Next morning we proceeded to Magdalena Bay, for an overnight stop. The Mexican port official came aboard and had dinner with us.

"We found out he was expecting transfer to Mexicali, but due to slow communications in this part of the world, he did not know just when, so Mr. Mosher, the owner of our boat, invited the official to call his chief at Mexicali over our radio telephone. He made the call, through Los Angeles and then down to Mexicali. Both reception and message were very good and I wish you could have seen the poor chap when he actually heard his chief, who also is his friend, speaking over the radio!

"This is the first time a radio message ever was phoned from that part of Mexico to Mexico proper!

"We rounded Cape San Lucas yesterday morning and started trolling for fish. We caught several large tuna and also some fine yellowtail. Later, as we came up to Cape Frailes, we caught several good-sized cabrios, supposed to be the finest eating fish in these waters. I'll vouch for that, too, as I had some for breakfast and lunch today and they were delicious.

"We have a very good cook on board and a very fine bunch of fellows. There are eight in the crew party and nine in the crew—17 in all—so you see it's quite a large job for the cook, three large meals a day with a midnight lunch thrown in!

"The swimming party just returned from the beach and declared it was the finest swim they ever had—no surf and the water just the right temperature. There is a fiesta at La Paz for the next three days and we are looking forward to a good time there. I will write more about that after it's over.

"Our next stop will be Guaymas. We'll proceed leisurely up the coast and stop there for several days. Then we'll stop at Mazatlan on our way down, before coming home—there also is a fiesta there which will last several days, so you can see we're looking forward to a good time and, yes, we also are figuring on some hunting at La Paz."

How's that for a letter to make your feet itch? It's virtually on my way to Baja California right now!

Incidentally, Capt. Bill winds up with a postscript that's a honey. Shamelessly apologizing for his typewriting, he says: "Excuse the mistakes. They sent a typewriter on board the last minute and the dam thing has no letters on the keyboard, so I have to guess at most of it, with my two-fingered touch system."

I'd be tongue-tied in that case, myself!

Anyway, here's to Capt. Bill and his party on Valero II. May their fish be many and their cares few!

Speaking of Guaymas, if anyone has any maps showing how to reach that popular port via automobile? I hear that Publisher Frank Rospaw in Placentia is in the market for some.

I'm taking time out to warn subscribers to watch out for another scandalous heading to this column one of these days.

Ed (Saleh's Sweetheart) Saleh, head of the stereotyping department for The Journal, is jealous. I have a boat, and he hasn't, so he's thinking up mean things to do. Once before he ran a picture of me in my boat, which wasn't at all flattering.

So, whatever you see, don't believe it!

VILLA PARK BUYS X-RAY FOR DRIVE ON FROZEN FRUIT

SYSTEM WILL SAVE MUCH OF CROP

Ramsey Speaker as Board Re-elected at Annual Growers' Meeting

VILLA PARK.—Plans for strict control over marketing of the 1937 citrus crop were made at the annual meeting of the Villa Park Orchards association here yesterday when it was announced that a fluoroscope will be installed for detection of frozen fruit.

Manager H. D. Nichols announced that one of the new detecting devices has been ordered at a cost of $2500. This single machine, he added, will be capable of handling 1000 boxes of fruit in an eight-hour day. An operator scrutinizes each orange as it passes through the machine, throwing out the damaged fruit, he explained.

The fluoroscope, Nichols added, will save a large number of oranges which otherwise would be discarded, and will increase the amount of fruit which can be sold in higher grades.

The entire board of directors of the association was re-elected. Willard Smith, W. A. Knuth, H. T. Brewer, A. N. Saxton and C. A. Watson form the board.

Henry M. Ramsey, field manager of the California Fruit Growers exchange, gave figures on latest estimates of loss of the exchange due to the freeze, saying that navel oranges are estimated to be 40 per cent and valencias 37 per cent unmarketable, while lemons are conceded to be 38 per cent lost.

Tree damage is slight, he indicated, only 2 to 3 per cent of the orange trees showing damage, while 10 to 15 per cent of the lemon trees are damaged to the extent of being set back in growth.

Clarence Skiles, manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange, spoke briefly on the history and value of auction sales. President Willard Smith presided, and a turkey dinner was served 300 growers by employees of the packing house under direction of Mrs. Ed Stanley.

CHURCH GROUP HAS ELECTION

WESTMINSTER.—Members of the Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church were entertained at a potluck luncheon at the home of Mrs. M. J. P. Heil in Tustin, Wednesday.

Birthday anniversaries of Mrs. George Greer, Mrs. Chester Hemstreet, Mrs. J. H. Walton and Mrs. Heil were observed.

Annual election of officers was held in the afternoon with Mrs. Reuben Edwards named as president; Mrs. Frank Grady, vice president; Mrs. Merle Rhea, secretary; Mrs. Heil, treasurer; mission instructor, Mrs. Greer; secretary of literature, Mrs. Walton, and membership chairman, Mrs. Hemstreet.

Present were Mrs. Greer, Mrs. Reuben Edwards, Mrs. Merle Rhea, Mrs. Clyde Day, Mrs. Francis Penhall, Mrs. Harry Penhall, Mrs. C. J. Day, Mrs. A. B. Crane, Mrs. C. B. McCall, Mrs. Orion Bebermeyer, Mrs. J. H. Walton, Mrs. E. J. Marks, Mrs. Virginia Patterson and two guests, Mrs. Cawthon and Mrs. Caswell, Tustin.

Mesa Attendance Contest Closes

COSTA MESA.—As the termination of a Sunday School attendance contest in which the class was divided into two teams, captained by Dorothy Rea and Frances Coleman, Dorothy Rea, captain of the losing side feted winners at a Valentine party so you can see we're looking forward to a good time and, yes, we also are figuring on some hunting at La Paz."

Present were Lorraine Mitchell, Irene Ladd, Helen Ramos, Mildred Pettit, Marcella Jordan, Elva Page, Shirley Wright, Virginia Leatherwood, Frances Coleman, Ethel Brown, Alba Vusich, Betty Reed, Dorothy Rea, Mrs. Everett Rea and daughter, Evelyn, Mrs. Annie King, Mrs. Rea's mother of Corydon, Iowa; Mrs. Lucile Clark and mother, Mrs. Angeline Allen.

Westminster Pioneer Passes

WESTMINSTER.—Carrie McCoy Purcell, 80, member of a pioneer Westminster family, died Sunday at her home in Downey, it has been learned by friends here. Funeral services were held Tuesday, with burial in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mrs. Purcell lived for many years in the old McCoy homestead, part of the original Westminster colony here. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Anderson and Mrs. Virginia Patterson attended the funeral rites.

L. A. Pair Visit In Hansen Home

HANSEN.—Miss Emma Bishop and Margaret Davis, Los Angeles, were Sunday guests of Dr. J. S. Scott and Mrs. Scott. Other recent guests of Dr. and Mrs. Scott were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Scott and family of Highland Park.

Sentenced for Contempt

FOUNDERS' DAY RELIEF IS TOPIC P.T.A. THEME AT FORUM

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Harbor High school P.T.A. members met Tuesday for a special Founder's Day celebration, the main speaker on this occasion being Mrs. R. W. Marvin, past-president of the Fourth District from Anaheim, who addressed the group on "Realizing a Hope of Our Founders."

Piano selections were played by Mrs. Florence Anderson, Coronado Mar and a one-act skit was presented by high school students under direction of Miss Tully, drama teacher. A short skit, dealing with morals and ideals and entitled "Fine Feathers" was presented by the Betty Lamberton and Betty Dodge.

Two members appointed on the nominating committee were Mrs. Helen Horner and Mrs. Clayton Thompson. Mrs. Edna Jones was appointed from the board. Report will be made at the next meeting, March 9.

As a special observation of Founder's Day, Mrs. Marvin dedicated a sycamore tree which was planted on the school grounds. The tree was accepted on behalf of the high school by Principal Sidney Davidson. The occasion marked not only the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the P.T.A. but also the first anniversary of founding of the Harbor high school.

At the close of the meeting a large birthday cake, bearing the P.T.A. emblem, the oak tree, as decoration, was served with coffee and tea.

BUSHMAN RITES HELD AT L. B.

LAGUNA BEACH.—Final services for Peter J. Bushman, fire chief in Laguna for the past 11 years, were held yesterday morning at St. Catherine's Catholic church, with interment from the Laguna funeral home at the Holy Sepulchre cemetery, near Orange.

A large crowd attended the service, with friends paying final tribute with numerous floral offerings.

Mr. Bushman is survived by a widow, Mrs. Elizabeth G. Bushman, and two sons, Robert, 15, and Francis, 10. Relatives at the funeral also included his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bushman, Anaheim; four brothers, William, Albert, Matthew, and Edward and three sisters, Martha, Rose and Agatha. Pallbearers were the four brothers and Frank and Charles McLaughlan, brothers-in-law.

MEMBERSHIP IS LEGION TOPIC

GARDEN GROVE.—Membership was stressed at a potluck dinner meeting of the Garden Grove American Legion and auxiliary at Legion hall Wednesday evening. Speakers were John Cleary, commander of the D. A. V. and his wife, Mrs. Pauline Cleary, 21st district vice-president of the auxiliary.

Other speakers were Ben Lieberman, fifth area commander, and E. L. Fritcher, first vice-commander of the Garden Grove post, who urged all members to work for a wider display of the flag on Lincoln's and Washington's birthday anniversaries.

VACATIONS AT C. M. COSTA MESA.—Miss Elmore Smalley, who holds a position with the Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles, is spending her vacation with her parents here and making short trips to visit friends at Rancho Santa Fe and San Luis Obispo Rancho.

FARM BUREAU DRAWS 300 AT PARK

VILLA PARK.—A record breaking crowd of more than 300 attended a ladies' night meeting of the Poothill Farm center last night in the packing house here. Mrs. Eleanor Taechner Jaroch, Covina, chairman of the health committee of the Los Angeles county Farm bureau, was speaker.

She told how Los Angeles county originated a plan whereby farm bureau members secure medical attention for $2 a month. The plan started when three company doctors of Los Angeles were approached with the plan, and agreed to try it, she said.

Following a discussion of the membership and attendance committee, Dr. C. C. Violet thanked the club for its support of the President's birthday dinner. Announcement was made of a county council meeting to be held at the Brea Woman's clubhouse, Monday evening with 10 members attending, they planned to attend.

DR. LAWS TALKS AT SESSION

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—"Final answers to questions of juvenile delinquency must be found by parents and teachers rather than by statutory enactments," said Dr. Gertrude Laws, speaking before a meeting of Orange county public forums at Newport Harbor High school Wednesday night. Dr. Laws is head of the bureau of parent education of the state department of education.

The atmosphere of home life depends upon attitudes and temperaments of the parents, Dr. Laws said, and the child absorbs whatever atmosphere the parents create in the home. The parents must have a complete understanding of the precepts which should govern their own personal conduct in setting the right example and creating the right atmosphere for the growing and learning child.

On Wednesday evening, Feb. 24, Albert Launer, city attorney of Fullerton, will speak at the Newport forum meeting on "California Community Property and its Testamentary Disposition."

A large exhibition of paintings by Western artists will be on display, the committee on Fine Art being Mrs. Walter Harrison Fisher, chairman, assisted by Addison B. Day and Rufus B. Van Kleinsmid.

LAGUNA P.T.A. HEARS TALK

LAGUNA BEACH.—Speaking before the monthly meeting of the Laguna Beach Elementary P.T.A. in the school auditorium Wednesday, Warren Mendonhall, director of child welfare in Orange county, talked on child truancy in the county, citing cases and giving their solutions.

Mrs. Emil Wickman presided at the meeting and Mrs. J. Roy Smith, assisted by Misses Morwick and Durbin, were hostesses at the tea.

A musical program was arranged by Mrs. Marie Thurston. C. Addison Van Loenen read a tribute to founders of the parent-teacher association written by the organization's state president, and Mrs. Marie Thurston announced the Girl Scouts' Court of Awards will be held Feb. 12. Receiving awards from Val Stark, regional director from San Francisco, will be Mona Lee Harris, the life-saving medal, and Verda Mackay, the gold eagle badge.

Definite action toward the movement was instigated by John S. Malcom, member of the Capistrano Union high school board and past president of the coast association. Malcom directed a letter to the association requesting the organization's support, which action was taken by Kimmell in appointing the committee.

POULTRY GROUP MEETS AT C. M.

COSTA MESA.—Tuesday night the adult poultry class met at Harbor high school, with Mr. Gilbert and Mr. Tooley of Salsbury Laboratories who discussed general disease problems.

At a meeting next Tuesday night, scheduled to begin at 7 p. m., Childers and William Hatch of Childers Hatching, Santa Ana, will be present to discuss general poultry problems. A moving picture will be shown during the discussion.

L. B. Basketball League Opens

LAGUNA BEACH.—The newly formed girls' basketball league gets under way tonight at 7 p. m. at the high school gym with a pick-up game to be staged according to Kitty Cook, newly elected captain of the Laguna Beach Lumber company team.

Regular play will continue Friday night as teams are organized, it was announced.

In the lineup tonight will be Kitty Cook, Sally Kaye, Evelyn Williams, Mary Ford, Merle Taylor, Barbara Cravath, Grace Pickell, Sylvia Nalfour, Esther Deffley, Vivian Arnette, Neva Crawford, Isabel Bowles, Ruth Rains, Betty King and Eunice La Brown.

MARKET SOLD COSTA MESA.—The Red and White meat market, purchased last summer by W. Baker of Long Beach, was sold this week to Bob Willitt of Costa Mesa, who has been employed in the meat department of Vinson's Market for the past year and a half.

GROWING PAINS

"Children today are SO wise—I'm almost afraid to have Mary Lou grow up."

Adkinson Is Speaker at 40 ATTEND G. G. GROVE LIONS' MEETING

GARDEN GROVE.—Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, entertained members of the Lions club with a humorous travelogue talk, "Itinerary of Running for Public Office," when he was presented by Roy Harvey as guest speaker at the luncheon meeting Wednesday.

Following a discussion of the membership and attendance committee, Dr. C. C. Violet thanked the club for its support of the President's birthday dinner. Announcement was made of a county council meeting to be held at the Brea Woman's clubhouse, Monday evening with 10 members attending, they planned to attend.

Stanley Clark was welcomed as a new member while L. C. Mirabile of Anaheim and Walter Thomson were guests. L. W. Schauer spoke on the election Feb. 24 on the proposal to form a park district requesting the club park committee to meet with him at the bank at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Artist to Attend L. A. Convention COSTA MESA.—Mrs. L. B. Smalley, Newport boulevard, is one of the local artists who will attend a reception honoring Western painters, which will be held at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles soon.

Club Meets in Hansen Home

HANSEN.—Mrs. H. P. Hannehan was hostess Wednesday to members of the Chats'n Chew club.

Present were Mrs. Rose Guinn, Mrs. Marie Eckert, Mrs. Geraldine Kahl, Mrs. Gladys Nordstrom, Mrs. Mabel Pollock, Mrs. Mary Lee Sawtelle, Mrs. Anna Wolfert and Mrs. Jean Remick, Los Alamitos, and Mrs. Gladys Rickard and Mrs. Edna Kreuger, Downey.

Natal, South Africa, has a shortage of hospital nurses and is importing 25 from Great Britain.

THE PURPLE ARROW

By MILDRED SNOW GLEASON

CHAPTER V
For several minutes Fran stood motionless, resisting an impulse to bang her fists against the locked door. As her first feeling of shock and fear passed, however, she was conscious only of a sense of bewilderment. Why had Mr. Jillup done this?

She walked to the window, trying to decide what to do. If escape from this house had seemed imperative before, it was doubly so now. Only how was she to accomplish it?

She looked out of the window. The moon had risen, and the fields were touched with silver. In the wing of the barn, where old Nils lived, a light was burning. It comforted her. There was still old Nils.

She opened the window and leaned out. The ground seemed far away. Suddenly, in spite of her worry, she laughed at the fantastic thought of making a rope of sheets and escaping through the window. It would be easy enough later to get out of the house with Nils' help. The real problem remained the same. What could she do, once she got away?

Sighing, she prepared for bed. She must wait and be patient until there was time for a possible answer from Jack. If it came, she would know what action to take. And if it didn't come... For the moment she refused to contemplate that alternative.

Keep your head. Keep your head. The words repeated themselves monotonously in her mind but, when she had slipped into bed and turned off the light, she put her fists to her eyes like a young child who is about to cry, and she lay trembling in the darkness for a long time.

It was late when Fran awoke in the morning, and the day was gray with a light rain falling. Usually she liked the peace and quiet of a rainy day, but now it depressed her.

ROTARIANS AT CAPISTRANO TO INSTALL

SAN JUAN, CAPISTRANO.—This community's new Rotary club will receive its charter from Rotary International in a formal presentation Friday night at a dinner meeting, the place to be announced later.

More than 300 Rotarians are expected to witness the ceremony which will introduce the 20 charter members into the service club ranks.

District Governor Marshall De Motte, Corning, will present the charter. Officers of the new club are: Vern Beck, president; G. J. Hamilton, San Clemente, vice-president and Paul E. Richards, secretary.

Directors are Beck, Hamilton, John M. Ray, Clarence R. Brown, Captain Albert T. Park, R. W. Quackenbush, and J. W. Heinicke.

40 ATTEND G. G. SILVER TEA

GARDEN GROVE.—More than 40 women gathered at the First Methodist church Wednesday afternoon to enjoy an old-fashioned silver tea given by the Esther Guild society.

Mrs. Mildred Johnson had arranged and presided at a display of various old fashioned articles, while Mrs. Lelia McClain planned the program, given in an old-fashioned garden setting arranged by Mrs. Ramah Emley and Mrs. Vivian Smith.

The program, in the form of a playlet, included old-time piano numbers by Miss Dorothy Barnes; vocal solos by Misses Marjorie Allen and Wanda Hunter accompanied at the piano by Helen Meyer and readings by Mrs. Mae B. Getting of Santa Ana, Mrs. Marjorie Turner, Alma Gene Schreff and Jean Holt.

Mrs. Louise Lake, and Mrs. Laura Smith were in charge of the tea arrangements while Miss Velda Barnes and Mrs. Mabel Chaffee presided at the urns.

VISIT AT GROVE GARDEN GROVE.—Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McLeod are entertaining the former's cousin, Mrs. Lillian Park of Clarence, Iowa, who is spending the winter at Claremont inn, as houseguest.

After dressing, she went to the door and tried it. It was still locked. She smiled, trying to persuade herself that it was nice to be spared the necessity of seeing the Jillups, but it was only a pretense. The locked door stood as a symbol of something mysterious and dark which she could not fathom.

As she dressed, she realized that she had been very foolishly last night. She should never have listened to the Jillups her intention to join Jack.

Discouraged, she went to the window and looked out at the rain. She pushed her dark hair back off her forehead. There was one way, perhaps, to remedy her mistake of last night. If she were clever enough, she might be able to fool Mr. Jillup into thinking that he had frightened her into submission. It was a remote chance, but still it was a chance.

Just as she was beginning to feel hungry and was wondering if they would remember to send her some breakfast, she heard the key turned in the lock, then the sound of retreating feet. Somewhat surprised, Fran went to the door, opened it and stepped out into the hall.

She found Mr. Jillup waiting for her at the head of the stairs. "When you've had breakfast," he stated, without preamble, "we'll start work."

Fran nodded meekly. He followed her downstairs and into the dining room.

From then on, for the rest of the day, she was never left alone, except when she was in her own room. Mr. or Mrs. Jillup or Joe was always at her side. They had little to say to her, however, and she was thankful.

That night, Mr. Jillup again accompanied her to her room and locked her in.

This procedure continued for three days, until Fran began to feel that she would go crazy if it did not stop. She forced herself, however, to maintain a listless and obedient attitude. She must be patient. Until she heard from Jack, she must do nothing that could further endanger her plans.

The Jillups made no reference to their extraordinary behavior, acting as though it were the most natural thing in the world for them to be always at her side.

On the fourth day, at last, Joe broke the silence.

"This comedy is becoming rather tiresome," he said.

Fran smiled. She hoped it was a meek, ingratiating smile.

SHOOTS SELF TO AVOID FREEZING

Man, Who Sought Help for Snowbound Wife and Baby, Suicide

CARSON CITY, Nev., (AP)—Earl La Near, 22-year-old Leadville, Colo., carpenter whose body was found in Clear creek canyon Wednesday night, shot himself to death in order to avoid death by freezing and exposure, a coroner's jury found late yesterday.

The jury returned a verdict that the youth came to his death from "a gunshot wound self-inflicted, superinduced by exposure and exhaustion."

Evidence was presented showing that La Near had shot himself in the head. His small calibre pistol was found a few feet from his body. Searchers discovered it lying in shallow Clear creek, about a mile from the county poor farm. The young man had been missing since Jan. 30, when La Near left his 19-year-old wife, Maude, and their two-year old daughter, Donna, in a snowbound automobile while he attempted to seek help. The wife and baby were rescued by a ski party after spending nine days in the stranded machine, on a Sierra Nevada mountain grade west of here. Both are recovering in a Carson City nursing home. They were enroute to Mammoth, Calif., from Leadville when they were trapped in a blizzard.

Forum Speaker to Outline Supreme Court Faults

What's wrong with the supreme court?

Dr. Hubert Phillips, Fresno college dean, will give his answer to that question Monday evening at Santa Ana High school, where he will appear as speaker on the federal forum program.

Pointing out that the supreme court, during its 143 years of existence, has invalidated only 63 federal laws, three of these before the civil war, 14 in the two Grant administrations, 12 under Wilson, and 11 so far under the Roosevelt regime, Dr. Phillips will say:

Property Bulwark
"Justly, or unjustly, the criticism most often leveled against the supreme court is that in its attitude toward social legislation it shows a time lag that amounts almost to obstruction. It also is a bulwark of property rights, and seems to give them greater weight, even when human rights are involved."

Favors Modernizing
Reading between the lines of Dr. Phillips' suggestions for a solution to the problem, he would seem to be in favor of Roosevelt's plan for "modernizing" the court. Here's what he says:

Other Methods
"By constitutional amendment we might take from the supreme court the power to declare an act of congress unconstitutional. 'By law, or constitutional amendment if necessary, we might require a vote of at least six judges in declaring an act of congress invalid. 'By constitutional amendment we might divide the United States into regions, similar to the reserve bank regions, each with a regional legislature to which both states and nation could surrender certain powers now exclusively reserved to them."

When photographers asked him to say something while posing with Owen A. Keen, postoffice department chief clerk, who swore him in, he grinned and finally remarked, "Well, it's a nice day."

Farley was the only cabinet member who had to be sworn in to serve during President Roosevelt's second administration. The postmaster general's term is fixed by law to be concurrent with that of the President.

Food Is Rushed to Snowbound Valley

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Rescuers plowed a lowly through deep snows of Northern California today to bring food and help to 73 snow-bound miners and prospectors in New River valley.

Many of the stranded men in the Trinity county valley had their families with them. Roland Dely, mail carrier in the New River valley region, whose 24-year-old wife is an expectant mother, was hopeful of getting out of the region today and obtaining a nurse to care for his wife.

For many days the residents of Denny, an outpost in Trinity county, have lacked bread, bacon and eggs, and other food staples were reported running low.

SLAYER IS DOOMED

DANIELSVILLE, Ga., (AP)—William Murray late yesterday heard Superior Judge Berry T. Mosley sentence him to die in the electric chair for the slaying of M. C. Daniel, Murray's father-in-law. Murray contended Daniel had refused to allow him to see his 16-year-old wife, who was living in the home of her father.

Workout at Fire Gives Fireman A Huge Appetite

MERRILL, Wis., (AP)—City councilmen were staggered at the size of the bill presented them for the customary "snack" given firemen after a recent workout. The blaze so whetted Firemen Ed Brandt's appetite he consumed 12 bowls of chili, nine sandwiches and eight cups of coffee.

SISTERS BATTLE ON OIL RIGHTS

Charging that their sister, Helen G. Bowen, claims personal ownership of Brea oil rights she holds in trust for them, Josephine G. Tritt and Agnes G. Crutzen yesterday started suit in superior court here. All parties to the action are children of Richard H. Gilman, 91 years of age. Gilman, the complainant states, retained oil rights to the land when it was acquired by Mrs. Bowen.

Later, Mrs. Bowen had the oil rights deeded to her in order to renew a mortgage, but promised to return them when the property was cleared, the complaint charges.

Gilman has assigned his oil rights in quarters to the three sisters and their brother, Richard H. Gilman, Jr., the complainant states. They ask determination of their rights.

Hurja Had Ticket On Fatal Plane

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Emil J. Hurja, D. democrat, national committee chairman, held a ticket for a seat on the United air liner that crashed in the bay with 11 others here Tuesday night.

The political worker said, he was in Los Angeles Tuesday and fully intended to fly here on the trip 23 plane, the one that crashed, but Los Angeles friends prevailed upon him to retain over. He exhibited his unused ticket.

Dublin, Irish Free State, has begun a drive to provide dwellings for 88,000 persons.

PROGRAM FOR CONCERT IS REVEALED

Musical numbers to be offered Tuesday night by the Cantando club, with Miss Clemence Gifford as soloist, were announced today by Benjamin F. Edwards, director of the group.

The concert, second in this year's series, will be given at the high school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday.

Soloists to Appear

The chorus will open with "Be-deuin Song" by Arthur Foote, "How Sweet, How Fresh This Vernal Day" by Stephen Paxton, "Constancy" by S. R. Gaines, and "The Two Grenadiers" by Robert Schumann. G. Willard Bassett, tenor, and J. M. Swarthout, baritone, will be heard in solos in the latter number.

Miss Gifford, noted concert contralto, will be heard in "Ewig" by Eric Wolf, "The Cave" by Edwin Schneider, "Hidden Wounds" by Frank LaForge, and are aria "Amour Viens Aider" from Saint-Saens' "Samson and Delilah."

The club will then sing "The Blind Ploughman" by Robert C. Clarke, "Thou Art Repose" and "The Erlking" by Franz Schubert.

Chorus to Sing

Following the intermission, the chorus offers Schubert's Ave Maria, with Bassett as soloist, "When the Roses Bloom" by Louise Reichardt, and "Landlighting" by Edward Greig, with Robert Jordan White in a baritone solo.

Miss Gifford's second group includes "The Snow" by Sigurd Lie, "My Lady" by Ernest Charles, "That Soothing Song" by John Alden Carpenter, and "Way Sweet Singing" by Clarence Oldstead.

The chorus closes the concert with "Bonnie Dundee," "Grandfather's Clock," and Donizetti's "Now the Night in Starlit Splendor."

Miss Ruth Armstrong will accompany both the club and Miss Gifford.

Freedom Won By Youth Because Of Intelligence

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—An 18-year-old, shabbily dressed youth won a suspended sentence as a vagrant today because a police court judge couldn't "stump" him in trigonometry.

The intellectual defendant was Joe De Vern of Chittanooga, arrested as he tried to "thumb" an automobile ride yesterday.

When he told Justice Edward F. Kamp of finishing grade school and high school in seven years and voiced some theories on mathematics, Joseph T. Lenihan, court attaché and college graduate, put the problem in trigonometry to him.

De Vern flung the answer back sharply and Lenihan subsided.

Justice Kamp smiled, suspended sentence, and wished De Vern "good luck."

Chamber Studies Housing Problem

Preliminary steps toward outlining a definite program to solve housing needs in Santa Ana were taken today.

A general discussion of the subject was held at the meeting of a chamber committee headed by C. H. Hoiles this morning. Only half of the committee members were present, and it was agreed to take up the discussion at another meeting Feb. 17.

It was conceded that Santa Ana needs certain types of housing and that something should be done to solve the housing problem in this city. It was felt that a definite program should be formulated for the entire community before further steps are taken.

Illinois Utilities Sales Tax Invalid

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The 3 per cent utilities sales tax act was held unconstitutional in a supreme court ruling today. The decision deprived the state government of unemployment relief revenues approximating $500,000 a month.

A unanimous opinion invalidated the act because it exempted sales of gas, water and electricity for industrial use. The court held that the exemption made the entire act unconstitutional.

Pope Blesses Italian King

VATICAN CITY. (AP)—Pope Pius, observing the fifteenth anniversary of his coronation, gave his apostolic benediction to Victor Emmanuel today as "King of Italy and Emperor of Ethiopia."

The pontiff, still confined to a wheeled divan, thus returned the king-emperor's anniversary greetings by extending full recognition to Italian sovereignty over Ethiopia.

Eliminate the Goat Is Way to Prevent This

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Mildred Lehman, Lycoming county school bus driver, asked the state to duplicate his operator's license.

"My goat ate it," he explained. He also wanted a new, unpalatable inspection tag for his bus. The goat ate that, too.

Helpless Flood Victims Carried to Safety

Relief workers were kept busy at Paducah, Ky., evacuating the aged, ill and injured as the crest of the mighty Ohio river flood moved toward the city. Here is a rescue crew lifting a victim to a scaffold leading to safety. (Associated Press Photo)

NEW TWIN BILL AT BROADWAY

With the aid of a troop of Boy Scouts, Alice Brady, and a will of righteousness, Charles Ruggles lives to do and tell in his role as a newspaper columnist in the comedy, "Mind Your Own Business," which opened yesterday at the Broadway theater as half of a double bill.

Famed for his portrayals of the mild-mannered husband determined to maintain peace at any price, Ruggles scored his greatest success in domestic roles with Mary Boland. In this picture Alice Brady plays opposite the comedian for the first time. Miss Brady is a new sort of wife for Ruggles. Her big objective in "Mind Your Own Business," is to make her husband a success and how she engineers the feat provides delightful entertainment for Broadway patrons.

In "Devil's Playground," second half of the screen offering, Richard Dix, Dolores Del Rio and Chester Morris are starred. In the hands of this trio, the story of an ill-fated romance and the U. S. navy's deep-sea divers gets under way in the very first moments. Dix as Dorgan, ace of the navy divers; Miss Del Rio as the dance hall girl who becomes his wife, and Morris as his life-long pal, take this Columbia picture into the hit class.

"Skeleton Frolic," color cartoon, and a Movietone News reel add further to the entertainment.

WPA Workers in Sitdown Strike

NEW YORK. (AP)—Cheered on by feminine exhortations to "stick it out," about 100 WPA workers took possession of a New York City park department garage, in Central park, and began a sit-down strike early today.

The workers, protesting against a recent order reducing their pay and lengthening their hours, "seized" nine trucks in the garage and cheerfully puffed cigars, ignoring requests to leave although warned that all men recognized would be stricken from the WPA rolls.

Acting Police Commissioner Harold Fowler strategically ordered the nine trucks driven out of the warm comfort of the garage into the nose-nipping open air in what the strikers charged was an attempt to freeze them out.

Packard Grants Wage Increases

DETROIT. (AP)—Wage increases of five cents an hour for Packard Motor Car Co. employees became known today.

The increase affects approximately 12,500 employees working on an hourly basis. The aggregate increase and the rates it establishes were not disclosed.

The company granted an increase of five cents an hour on Nov. 14 for hourly workers and also gave a $10 a month increase to salaried workers receiving less than $200 a month. Those increases, it was estimated, would amount to $1,250,000 a year.

Confessed Killer On Way to Chair

NEW YORK. (AP)—Major Green, confessed negro killer of Mrs. Mary Robinson Case, was today way to the electric chair, today, convicted exactly one month after the attractive housewife was slain in her apartment.

Judges Charles S. Golden said he would pronounce the mandatory death sentence Feb. 19.

BENCH WARRANT ISSUED

Arrested yesterday in Oroville, on a bench warrant issued by Judge Gavy Cravath, Laguna Beach, Virgil Cole, 30, of Chico, was lodged in the county jail today awaiting arraignment on charge of non-support of a minor child.

Marked Tree is a town in Arkansas.

WALNUT MENTO REVIEW YEAR

Everything was all set today for the annual meeting of members of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers association.

The annual event will be held Tuesday, Feb. 16, at the packing plant at 1024 East Fourth street, Santa Ana. It will open with a pot-luck dinner to be served at noon, it was announced today by A. E. Confer, manager of the packing house.

Financial reports and reports of officers and directors will feature the afternoon session, it was announced. The association auditor will make a report covering returns for the 1935-36 crop.

An address by Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers association, will be heard during the afternoon. Other talks are to be made by A. W. Christie, field manager of the state association, and Professor Braucher of the Riverside citrus experiment station.

Election of a board of directors will feature the business session, over which President L. E. Smith will preside. Besides Smith, the directors now serving include Charles Van Wyk, E. B. McCulla, Charles Hallett and A. R. Marshall.

CHANGES DUE IN DIPLOMATS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he was considering a number of transfers and changes in the diplomatic corps but declined to indicate the envoys involved.

Among those mentioned in unofficial speculation for transfers to new posts are Hugh Gibson, ambassador to Brazil, and Jefferson Caffey, ambassador to Cuba. Both have served several years at their present assignments and are known to desire a change.

It also has been predicted in some authoritative quarters that Joseph E. Davies, only recently appointed ambassador to Soviet Russia, would be given another post, but neither his possible new assignment nor the name of a successor has been mentioned in official circles.

One of Trio on Trial Admits Kidnaped Wendel

NEW YORK. (AP)—Murray Bleefeld, one of three men on trial in Kings county court, Brooklyn, on charges of kidnaping Paul H. Wendel, former New Jersey attorney, in a surprise move today entered a plea of guilty to kidnaping.

Counsel for Bleefeld told the court he desired to make a motion for Bleefeld and asked for removal of the jury. Judge J. F. Fitzgerald refused to accede to the request, and Burton Turkus, of defense counsel, joined in the plea for removal, explaining that what was to be said was prejudicial to Martin Schlossman and Harry Weiss, the other defendants whom he represents.

The judge again denied the motion, and Bleefeld withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. The defense then rested.

Tennessee 'Press Gag' Bill Killed

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Tennessee's "press gag" bill has met the death its author predicted for it.

The judiciary committee of the house of representatives tabled and killed the measure that the senate had passed, 29 to 1, after a public hearing.

The sponsor, Senator Fletcher R. Morgan, Chattanooga attorney, who said editors were "unbridled" and that he had been forced to submit to "blackmailing articles," forecast a few days ago that the bill would fall in the house. He blamed the "newspaper lobby."

BRITAIN PLANS HUGE DEFENSE

(By the Associated Press)
Great Britain turned her thoughts today to ways and means of enforcing her insular safety in the event she is unable to preserve peace in troubled Europe.

Informed circles reported her armament program would near the astounding sum of $8,000,000 in the next five years, and would be used as a club to enforce European peace.

A secret air raid test was held during the early morning hours to determine effectiveness of protection for one of the country's great aviation construction centers.

A tea party at Wimbledon proved a grim omen of what the future may be when 400 guests donned gas masks as a stunt to popularize their distribution to and use by every man, woman and child in the nation.

MEMORIAL FOR HERRICK

PARIS. (AP)—American and French dignitaries joined today in the unveiling of a memorial to Myron T. Herrick, United States war-time ambassador to France. After the dedication of a bronze bust of the late envoy, United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt paid tribute to Herrick's work during the war.

HOPKINS TELLS GOAL OF WPA

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Fitting the unemployed for jobs in private industry, Administrator Harry L. Hopkins said today, has been one of three principles of the federal work relief program.

"We had to give the jobless the kind of work which would preserve, restore or increase their working ability, and thus make them better competitors for private jobs," he said in making public a 110-page summary of information on which officials based the program.

The other two objectives of the Works Progress administration, Hopkins said, were "to give people work" and "to give each community the sort of public improvements and services which its officials wanted."

The summary showed 6,402,000 persons were eligible for WPA jobs at the start of 1936, when it was prepared.

LINDBERGH IN DESERT

CAIRO, Egypt. (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, en route to Cairo from Tripoli, landed at Mersa Matruh in the western desert at 3:25 p. m. today. They said they intended to remain overnight in the town, approximately 300 miles from Cairo.

A Speaker Speechless

Action spoke louder than words when Speaker of the House Bankhead went backstage in Washington, D. C., to congratulate his daughter, Miss Tallulah Bankhead, on her performance in a show. There was big hug and a kiss from the speaker when Daughter Tallulah asked him how he liked her on the stage. (Associated Press Photo)

MEET C. F. SMITH, RED AND WHITE GROCER

This week we are pleased to present another Red and White grocer. They are a popular bunch. Somehow or other all of these Red and White grocers are likeable fellows, and C. F. Smith is no exception. His friends familiarly call him "Claude," and they do not have to make him like it, as he likes it already. There is a familiarity and sincerity about it that goes with the business, because that is the kind of an attitude he maintains toward his customers.

Mr. Smith is located at 1431 West Fourth street. He has been in business for 12 years. He started with the Red and White organization as a charter member, and is well satisfied with the affiliation. This long acquaintance has familiarized him with the merchandise handled by the Red and White group, so he is quickly able to make the selections which best suit his customers. They are his first consideration.

Mr. Smith has during his 12 years business experience developed it into a complete market. He owns and operates all of the departments—meats, fruit, vegetables and groceries. These, with the assistance of Mrs. Smith, come within his personal supervision, and your purchases are carefully attended to, and the service is guaranteed to be all you could expect and what you expect.

Mr. Smith maintains a delivery service which is prompt. Your goods will be there in time for the meal for which you wish to use them. There will be no disappointments, not only in the delivery or the merchandise.

Most grocers are entitled to at least one or more hobbies, but Mr. Smith sort of leans to the game which made the Deans famous, although he is not altogether "dizzy" about it. But it does afford him a diverting pleasure, and business men are entitled to some recreation. "Claude" takes life philosophically. He may be called a "happy go lucky" fellow, but he doesn't get so far away from his business that it is neglected.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be pleased to have you call at their store. They would like to know you and you will like to know them. If you buy their groceries and meats and fruits and vegetables you will like them better. Remember the number—1431 West Fourth street.

Willard Junior High News

The ninth grade Girl Reserves met in room 206 on Feb. 10. The meeting was called to order by Hollis Tibbals, president. The minutes were read and approved, the roll was then called and Miss Anderson took over the meeting. It was suggested to sing songs, so several were sung. The Girl Reserve code was recited, and Miss Anderson, advisor, expressed an idea to get old members to come back. It was decided to choose captains and then choose teams and see which side could get the most members back. The losing side had to give a free party for the winning side. The torch song was sung and the meeting was closed by taps.

Mrs. Wellington was an invited guest for the ninth grade Girl Reserve meeting held Feb. 10. She gave a very educational and interesting talk on the book, "It's More Fun to Know the Rules," by Beatrice Pierce. It gave very interesting facts on etiquette and charm. Her talk took in everything including trips, stay over week-ends, etc. She ended in saying that this book was the most interesting and well written one in the line of those books.

De Lacy Cook, popular H-9S, was voted president of the commissioners at a recent meeting. In the final election, Richard Kendall was defeated by De Lacy, who will take the place of the retiring president, Bruce Adkinson. All of the six boys who were elected commissioners for this semester went up for choice but Richard and De Lacy were the highest.

LOCAL WARDEN JOB IS ENDED

W. E. Adkinson lost his job as county fire and game warden last night. An ordinance passed by the board of supervisors a month ago to abolish the position went into effect at that time, County Clerk J. M. Backs said.

Deciding that increased activities of the state and federal forest services made the office no longer necessary, the board voted Jan. 7 to abolish the job. The next week, however, they found that an ordinance was necessary, so they passed one. It required 30 days for it to go into effect.

FOREIGN FUNDS INFLEX PERIL

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau said today that "the constant inflow of foreign capital is a source of worry to us." He told reporters he would meet Monday with Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the federal reserve board and Chairman James M. Landis of the securities commission to study the situation.

A study of the influx of foreign capital was ordered three months ago by President Roosevelt. Since then, technical staffs of the treasury, reserve board and securities commission have been making a careful analysis.

Morgenthau declined to discuss what, if any, action might be taken to stem the inflow. It has aggregated more than $4,000,000,000 in the last three years.

Guest Injured In Crash Sues

A guest whose host assertedly smashed up a car in which said guest was injured, started suit in superior court yesterday, asking $15,700 damages for injuries.

The guest, Harry C. Augustus, said that on Nov. 14 he rode from Placentia to Long Beach and back with Jack Snell. On the way back, Snell became intoxicated and crashed into a tree, Augustus charged.

He said the vision of his left eye was impaired, and that he sustained injuries to his head, and wrist and rib fractures.

The University of South Carolina has opened a cash depository for protection and convenience of students.

SPANISH WAR IS SEE-SAW OF ACTION

(By the Associated Press)

Spain's see-saw of war tilted back and forth today for both Fascist insurgents and the Socialist government—one up and the other down, then the other way. Death stalked earth, sea and sky. Shouting Moorish troops in the ranks of Madrid's Fascist besiegers pointed an insurgent drive which established a new 10-mile front along the Jarama river southeast of the city at a heavy cost of life for the defenders.

Each Claims Road

The move left still unsettled the question of which side controls the Madrid-Valencia road, each claims it. Complete encirclement of Madrid is the Fascist objective.

Socialist artillery sought to break the incomplete Fascist ring on the northwest with a bombardment that failed to dislodge insurgents from fresh positions in the University City section. The government reported its air fighters shot five Fascist planes out of the skies on the outskirts of the city.

Insurgents streamed back into the west park section of Madrid after low-flying planes raked the sector with machine gun fire and Socialist infantrymen "mopped up" with hand grenades. This was but one of several struggles over the barricades of the city.

Village Shelled

Only two and a half miles north of Valencia, temporary seat of the Socialist government on the Mediterranean, insurgent warships poured more than 30 shells into the village of Alboraya—a fore-runner perhaps of a Fascist drive on Valencia by land and sea.

A Fascist-controlled radio station at Seville broadcast that insurgents had captured Francisco Melia, president of the popular tribunal of Valencia, who, the announcement said, was responsible for more than 5000 executions.

Alexander Hamilton was born on a small West Indian island January 11, 1757.

FLOOD RELIEF FUND GROWS

Over the $16,000 mark went Orange county Red Cross chapters today in their contributions to the Red Cross flood relief fund, totals at 10 o'clock this morning being reported as follows:

Santa Ana chapter, $9771.27; Fullerton, $2653.05; Anaheim, $2015.30; Orange, $1757.35, and the county total, $16,196.97.

Santa Ana chapter reported today an additional $74.20 from the Junior Red Cross of the Santa Ana schools, bringing their total up to $95.26; donation of $20 from the Japanese Farmers' association of Irvine; $27.25 from employees of the Southern California Telephone company; $10 from the Santa Ana Woman's club, and $11 from the Daughters of Union Veterans.

Fullerton chapter reported $26 more from Buena Park, and an additional $56 from Brea branch to raise its total to $535.50.

Holiday for WPA Workers Feb. 22

Works Progress Administration project employees and administrative workers were busy working today, on Lincoln's birthday, but they won't be on Washington's birthday. Notice has been given the WPA employees that the work will be suspended on Feb. 22, Washington's birthday. Project work will be arranged so that there will be no loss of time and pay for the workers.

ADJUSTING OF HEATERS IS ADVISED

Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, joined forces with Crooner Earl Abbey today, in repeating warnings to Orange county householders against the dangers of obsolete and defective heating equipment in improperly ventilated rooms.

"Each year," he said, "a number of people die from carbon monoxide poisoning. Many of them are caused from burning improperly adjusted and vented heaters in closed rooms, which causes an accumulation of this tasteless, odorless gas."

There must be plenty of ventilation, either through a properly vented chimney flue, or through an open window in any room heated by an open flame. Modern gas burning appliances, if properly connected and operated, will give satisfactory results, free from hazards, but they must be properly operated.

In replying to an inquiry as to what the local gas company was doing to prevent accidents due to inhalation of carbon monoxide, Fred G. Merker, district manager of the Southern Counties Gas company in Orange county, stated:

"The gas companies maintain corps of trained service men who are ready on request to inspect and adjust all gas appliances free of charge. It is manifestly impossible for us to make a blanket inspection and adjustment of every gas appliance on our system, and as a matter of fact, in the case of modern gas heaters bearing the seal of approval of our industry's testing laboratory, such a course is unnecessary."

"Trouble from this source arises from the use of inadequate, poorly constructed portable gas heaters which have been carelessly handled and we constantly urge our customers to install proper and adequate heating equipment."

WAGES BOOSTED BY FIRESTONE

AKRON, Ohio. (AP)—The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. announced today wage increases ranging from 5 to 8 cents an hour for all factory employees, effective Feb. 15.

More than 10,000 employees of the company will participate, the company said. Employees in the lower wage rate groups will receive the largest amount of increases in hourly rates.

At the same time the company announced a minimum wage rate of 75 cents an hour for men and 65 cents an hour for women. This is the sixth pay increase at Firestone since June, 1933, the company said. The others were boosts of 10 per cent, 7 1/2 per cent, 10 per cent, 6 per cent and 9 per cent.

Expulsion Leads To Pupil Strike

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—Pupils in the ninth and tenth grades of the Luna Pier High school at Lakeside, Mich., went on strike today in protest against the expulsion of two boys.

Fifteen pupils from the lower grades joined in the strike demanding the removal of Miss Mildred Scully, principal. The boys, Paul and Harold Barker, each 15, and not related, said they went to the high school last Tuesday evening and sought permission to remove costumes used in a class play. Denied permission, they said, then entered through a coal chute, picked a lock on a store room door and left with the costumes.

Pure Food and Drug Bill Okehed

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The senate commerce committee approved the Copeland pure food and drug bill today.

The bill, which passed the senate during the last congress, would broaden the scope of laws prohibiting adulteration, misbranding and false advertisement of food and drugs and would change some penalties.

Cab Drivers and Police Clash

BALTIMORE. (AP)—Cab strikers and police clashed today when 20 strike-breaking cabs dashed from the Yellow Cab company's garage amid a shower of bricks, stones and empty milk bottles. Officers used their nightsticks freely. Two patrol wagon loads of strikers were arrested.

Detective Chief Refuses Papers

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Robert Pinkerton, president of the Pinkerton National Detective agency, refused today to turn over to the senate civil liberties committee a group of "confidential reports" written by secret informants of his firm.

HONORS FOR DR. CARREL. CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—The Cardinal Newman award for 1936 will go to Dr. Alexis Carrel, New York scientist and surgeon, for his "notable" contributions to medical science," the Newman foundation announced today.

NEW AID FOR INSANITY IS DEVELOPED

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Two new arms of medical science reached out today to strike at dementia praecox, most prolific contributor to state asylums.

Dr. John B. Plastino, Spokane physician, announced he had "restored to sanity" two mental sufferers through the use of insulin. "The immediate results are astounding," he said, "but only time will tell as to the permanency."

Brain Amplifier. The second arm is a recently developed radio brain amplifier. Dr. W. W. Conway, superintendent of the Eastern State hospital at Medical lake, said experiments on dementia praecox patients at the hospital would be started soon by Dr. Frederick Limere.

Dr. Conway said the instrument amplifies a tiny electrical impulse from the brain and records it with a small pen on a moving strip of paper. Brain waves are as characteristic of each individual, he explained, as features and personality traits. "We believe we will be able to determine certain helpful facts about each case explained, and learn something about the types of treatment to which patients respond most rapidly," the hospital superintendent said.

Explains Treatment. Explaining the insulin treatment, Dr. Plastino said: "The restoration to sanity is produced by a coma through use of insulin. From 10 to 14 treatments have been necessary. "Too much or too little sugar in the blood causes death. Insulin decreases the sugar content of the blood, and is given to the point that a quick injection of glucose into the blood stream is necessary to restore the patient."

Army Recruits Equal to Regiment

WASHINGTON. — Soldiers enough to man a complete infantry regiment in the United States army's recently-revised divisional setup were enlisted by the New York recruiting district during the calendar year 1936, it was learned today.

A total of 6531 volunteers presented themselves at recruiting stations in the New York area of which 2506 candidates were accepted. Of the total number of applicants, 5112 were "greenhorns," while 1419 had previous service to recommend them.

Value of Swords Disturbs Attics

WASHINGTON. — Attics and basement storerooms became fields for frantic search recently when a sudden flare for historic swords swept through the military population of the country.

Location of a sword which had seen service in the Revolutionary war, Civil war, Greek Indian war and which saw service with Andrew Jackson in his war against the reds, was said to have started the chase. The weapon described is owned by Master Sergt. Cadwallader Jones, stationed at Fort Snelling, Minn.

It is understood a prize will be offered for the location of the sword which can be proved to have seen the most service.

G. A. R. LEADER DIES

ICKES WANTS HOT OIL ACT CONTINUED

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Ickes told a senate finance subcommittee today the Connally "hot-oil" act should be made permanent. He also advocated a "national policy of oil conservation."

Ickes said cooperation the petroleum administration had received from state conservation officers demonstrated that state and federal governments could work together "effectively for the conservation of the oil and gas resources of the nation."

"In view of this happy and beneficial cooperation in the conservation of this irreplaceable and vitally essential natural resource, I recommend that the Connally act be made permanent without change or modification."

The act, which expires next June, prohibits interstate movement of crude oil and its products in excess of state allowances.

Asserting that the United States is using its oil reserves faster than the rest of the world, Ickes said:

"The congress and the executive branch should not await the day of practical exhaustion before arriving at a national policy of oil conservation. If we are to conserve our oil supply so that it will meet, to the fullest possible degree, the needs of the world, we must do it while there is oil to conserve."

"I suggest, therefore, that the congress and the executive branch might well address themselves to the question as to how, in addition to the permanent enactment of the Connally act, the federal government might aid the oil producing states to husband the oil resources of America."

Court Plan to Be Told Over Radio

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Justice department officials said today Attorney General Cummings would explain the President's judiciary reform program next Sunday night in a coast to coast radio broadcast. He will speak at 7 p. m. E. S. T. (4 p. m. Santa Ana time.)

"There's the doorbell again"

SUPPOSE daily to your door came the butcher, the grocer, the clothier, the furrier, the furniture man, and every other merchant with whom you deal? What a tedium of doorbell answering that would mean!

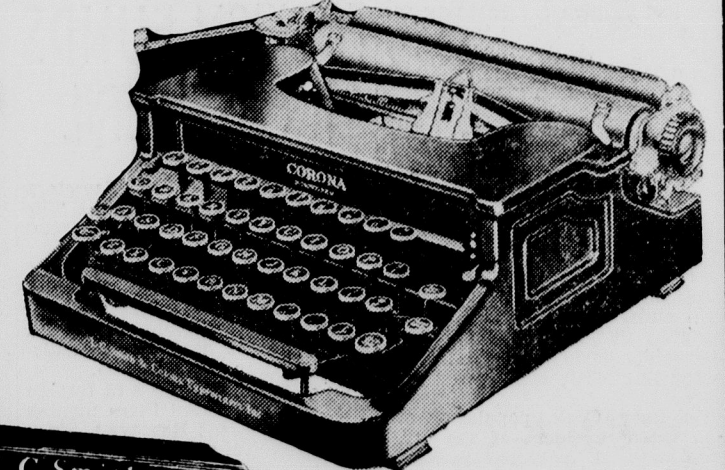

It would be even more impractical for you to visit daily all these stores to find out what they have to offer and the price.

And yet you need those merchants' service quite as much as they need your patronage. Contact between seller and consumer is essential in the supplying of human needs. Before a sale can be closed the goods must be offered. Every day, through the advertising columns of The Journal, the merchants of this city come to your home with their choicest wares. Easily, quickly, you get the news of all that is worth while in the market-places of the world.

They are not strangers at the door, but merchants you know and trust. You are always surer of high quality and fair price when you buy an article advertised by a reputable firm.

Former Star Asks Showdown

Mary Miles Minter, former screen star, has demanded that she be prosecuted immediately or exonerated completely in connection with the murder 15 years ago of her friend, William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director. Miss Minter is shown here as she appeared at the district attorney's office in Los Angeles with her attorney, Eugene H. Marcus (center) and Deputy Dist. Atty. Edwin Myers. (Associated Press Photo)

LUNCHEONS THAT SATISFY

Luncheon has become the problem child in the menu family these days. Due to present day business and home conditions the former noon dinner hour with its full course meal has practically disappeared. Today luncheons are either packed to be carried and eaten away from home, guests are invited, or the meal is eaten in solitude. Here are a few helps in making these meals more interesting.

When Eating Alone

Treat yourself to an attractively set table in the living room if the size of the dining table scares you—on the porch in hot weather—but not in the kitchen or "off the shelf."

Don't eat left-overs as they come from the cooler (unless they especially appeal to you) but give thought to serving them attractively in some other way. For instance—a slice of left over meat may be made into a toasted sandwich by dipping the sandwich in beaten egg and browning in butter as for French toast.

Be sure and eat a well balanced meal—a glass of milk with a sandwich—tomato juice or a salad with hot creamed dish. A soup, fruit salad and rolls, or a soup, sandwich and fruit juice.

Make the noon meal a time of relaxation and enjoyment. Plan to read the paper after eating or clip into a new book for a few minutes. In this way the strain of the day is avoided.

The luncheon should be stimulating but not heavy. Eat foods which have pep and character: tart fruit juices or tomato juice and salad with piquant dressings. For a quick hot luncheon there is nothing easier for a solitary meal than a broiled combination. For instance, a slice of ham—a slice of pineapple and left over vegetable in an individual ramekin sprinkled with cheese, and all broiled and browned together.

When Entertaining Guests

Soup and waffle luncheons are easy to serve and "different." With a filling hearty soup such as split pea—Clam Chowder or Minestrone serve a dessert type of waffle such as gingerbread with cream cheese and marmalade topping or banana cream waffles or strawberry waffles (in season.) With a light soup such as vegetable broth—chicken and noodles or turkey soup, serve a main course waffle such as ham or cheese waffles with tomato sauce or barbecue waffles.

Serve your guest meals in special surroundings—foreign dishes in their proper setting such as the popular Italian dish of polenta (corn meal slices baked in a savory tomato sauce with mushrooms and olives) served on Italian pottery plates with bread sticks and antipasto, and fruit and cheese for dessert.

Salad luncheons are always good with each individual plate consisting of three separate small salads. A meat, fish or egg salad, a vegetable salad and a fruit salad. Serve hot rolls with the salad and a cheese and cracker tray for dessert.

First Course Suggestions
Oyster or Shrimp Cocktail served in a half avocado or a green pepper shell.

Filled Ham Cornucopias: Thin slices of ham rolled into cornucopias and filled with a salad mixture of chopped celery, chopped egg, pickle relish and mayonnaise. A ring of pimiento or green pepper holds the cornucopia in place. Serve on a bed of chicory.

Main Course Suggestions
Combination Plate: A crisp noodle nest filled with creamed ham and mushrooms in the center of the plate. Then around it at intervals small mounds of vegetables separated by a garnishing of parsley. For vegetables—cauliflower flowerettes sprinkled with grated cheese and broiled until the cheese is melted, a carrot ring 1/4 inch wide slipped around 3 stalks of green asparagus and spaced beet relish.

Broiled Sausage Patties on top of broiled pineapple slices with a thin country gravy over all. As an accompaniment serve a cheese custard filled with fresh green peas.

Individual Filled French Rolls: Hollow out French rolls, butter and toast them. Fill with fried oysters, sliced radishes and stuffed olives. Serve with horseradish sauce and an asparagus timbale on the side.

Dessert Suggestions

Individual French Mince Pies: Make tart shells and fill the bottoms half full of mince meat and cover with thinly sliced apples. Sprinkle with brown sugar and butter and bake until apples are tender. Top with cream cheese mixed with whipped cream.

Peach Halves, Alaska: Fill peach halves with chopped salted pecans mixed with cream cheese and place filled side down on a thin round of sponge cake. Cover the peach completely with meringue and brown in a slow oven.

Chocolate-Orange Dessert: Pour orange bavarian cream into individual ring molds. When firm unmold on serving plates and fill the center with a mound of Chocolate Pudding. Top with whipped cream and sprinkle with ground walnuts.

When Packing Lunch Boxes
Remember that the appearance of the lunch box is as important if not more so than the setting of the table. Daintiness and a few frills for the girls—neatness but a more substantial appearance for the men.

Purchase inexpensive but attractive paper cups, tiny plates and knives and forks for lunch box use. Or if the lunch box is the popular tin type with a thermos flask fitted into the lid purchase special small dishes and containers to hold the foods. It helps make the lunch more interesting.

Avoid foods that are messy or ones which will shake to pieces. But don't lack first sandwiches for a "dry" lunch—Include salads, simple puddings, jellied meat leaves and baked custards, etc.

Always include a treat or surprise—a bit of candy—a stuffed date or prune, some salted nuts, a fancy pickle or olive or some mints.

LISTS GROW

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—Applications for old age pensions in Los Angeles county are increasing at the rate of 1,000 a month, Rex Thomson, superintendent of the department of charities of that county, told the Robertson section of the Donihue committee yesterday.

Investigation discloses from 720 to 750 out of each thousand applications are bona fide, he said, and the majority of the aged are "very well satisfied and most appreciative" of the aid received. He said the only general complaint is in the delay between the time of application and arrival of the first check, which averages about five months.

Found Guilty of Smuggling Aliens

SEATTLE, (AP)—A federal court jury late yesterday convicted Sam Peterson, 45, Vancouver, B. C., and Bellingham logger, on two counts of smuggling an alien into the United States from Canada.

Thomas Gordon Tyler, who pleaded guilty to an alien smuggling charge, testified Peterson paid him $40 each for keeping aliens in Tyler's home on the border until they could be moved safely.

Pair Found Dead Of Gas Poisoning

FRESNO, (AP)—Coroner's deputies and the police yesterday brought into the home of Charles J. E. ney, sales manager for the Sun Maid Raisin Growers' association, and found his wife's father an stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Boulton, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, had been dead for more than a week, apparently from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Coroner J. N. Lisle pronounced the deaths accidental.
